ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

Captain Louis Brady and Mrs. Brady wish to express their profound gratitude to all those who sympathised with them in the recent tragedy. They hope to acknowledge their messages of sympathy individually, but, having regard to their number, this will take a little time.

The relatives of the late Mrs. Catherine Ward, of Castlewellan, desire to express their grateful thanks to the many friends who sympathised with them in their recent sad bereavement, and trust they will accept this acknowledgment, as it is impossible to reply to each one individually.

IN MEMORIAM.

DARLINGTON—In loving memory of Roberts Victor, beloved son of James and Ellen Darlington, 1 Ruttledge tce., Donore av., who fell asleep October 6, 1918.

Some time—some day—our eyes shall see
The dear face we hold in memory;
And God shall link the broken chain
Still closer when we meet again.

GOURLAY—In ever-loving memory of Theo, beloved eldest daughter of Robert and Lillie Gourlay, who was called to rest 6th October, 1918. "Till the day break."

LONG—In loving memory of my dear husband, Edward Long, who went to rest, after a long and painful illness, October 6, 1919. Inserted by his sorrowing widow, Frances Long.

PEMBROKE URBAN COUNCIL.

A special meeting of the Pembroke Urban Council was held in the Town Hall, Ballsbridge, last evening, the Chairman, Mr. William Beckett, J.P., presiding, to consider a communication from the Law Agents enclosing a notice from the Ministry of Transport Tramways Charges Advisory Committee with reference to the proposed increase of tramway fares, and the inquiry to be held in connection therewith in London on Tuesday next.

The Chairman said that the Tramway Company, owing to the extra charges for material, etc., had reasonable ground for increasing their rates. If the Council opposed the company's application, they would have to do so by themselves, and that would mean a great deal of expense. He suggested that they discuss the matter in a friendly way with the Tramway Company, and that the Committee already appointed arrange for an interview on the subject.

It was decided, on the motion of Sir Gabriel Stokes, seconded by Mr. McMillan, that authority be given to oppose the Tramway Company's application before the Committee in London.

The Council then discussed various details regarding the suggestions to be made to the Tramway Company in relation to the fares and other matters affecting the tramway service in the Pembroke district.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS.

PROVINCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

APPOINTMENT FOR EX-SOLDIER.—Portadown Town Council, at their meeting on Monday, appointed Mr. A. V. Richardson, an ex-soldier, as Assistant Clerk. Mr. Herbert Sewell, who was recently elected to the position of Town Clerk, is also an ex-Service man.

COUNTY DOWN CROPS DAMAGED.—Owing to the recent rains the River Bann has overflowed its banks, causing considerable damage to crops over a wide area. Farmers were to be seen working knee-deep in the water between Leitrim and Banbridge on Monday.

STRABANE CLERGYMAN'S BEREAVEMENT.—On Monday evening the Rev. E. Clarke, Strabane Manse, received a wire from the India Office stating that his son, Lieutenant T. V. Clarke, of the 41st Dogras, Indian Army, was drowned at Jaffa on September 30th.

TRADING BETWEEN BELFAST AND NEW YORK.—At a meeting of the Belfast Harbour Board yesterday a letter was submitted from Messrs. John Burke and Co. as to berth accommodation for the steamers trading direct between New York and Belfast, and it was directed that every possible accommodation would be afforded such steamers consistent with the general requirements of the trade of the port.

BELFAST HARBOUR TRAFFIC.—At a meeting of the Belfast Harbour Board yesterday the report of the Harbour Master stated that 531 vessels arrived at the port during the week ending 2nd inst.—316 coastwise and cross-Channel, 15 foreign, and one non-trading. The tonnage of the vessels which arrived from the 1st January to the 2nd inst. was as follows:—Cross-Channel and coastwise 1,681,963, an increase of 227,007 as compared with the corresponding period of last year; foreign 307,167, an increase of 53,645; non-trading 49,906, a decrease of 58,476; total 2,038,896, an increase of 222,236.

LURGAN COUNCIL AND MUNICIPAL AUTHORITIES' CONFERENCE.—At Lurgan Urban Council on Monday evening, the Chairman (Mr. E. Lunn, J.P.), referring to the report of Mr. F. W. Pollock, Town Clerk, delegate to the Municipal Authorities' Conference at Dublin in September, suggested that the Council withdraw from the Association, as, in his opinion, politics should not be indulged in. Mr. F. McCluskey (Nationalist) said that there was too much separation in Ireland. In his opinion it would be better for the people if they came to terms on a good many things. It was decided to defer the matter until they were next asked to appoint a delegate.

COMPENSATION FOR PAINTER'S DEATH.

HOW DOCTORS DIFFER.

The Right Hon. the Recorder of Dublin yesterday heard an application for compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act in respect of the death of Andrew Silo, a painter, who had been in the employment of Messrs. A. H. Bex, Ltd., of South King street, Dublin, an event which occurred on July 9th.

Mrs. Annie Silo, the applicant, stated that her husband had been for nine months prior to his death in the employment of the respondents. He was a painter by trade, and in June he complained of colic, and was attended by Dr. Talbot, of Sandymount.

Dr. Talbot told the Court that he had attended Silo on three occasions, and found him suffering from the marked and well-known symptoms of lead poisoning. On the 21st June the patient went into Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital, where he died on July 9th. The cause of death was certified as cirrhosis of the liver. Deceased was a sober-living man, and bearing that fact in mind, and also the condition of lead poisoning, from which he had been suffering, he (the doctor) had no hesitation in saying that the cirrhosis of the liver, from which he died, was due to lead poisoning, occasioned by his employment as painter. The witness was strengthened in that opinion by the high authority of Professor Sir William Osler and Professor Allbutt.

Dr. William Stoker, for the respondents, told the Court that he had large experience of blood poisoning, and that he had never known a case in which cirrhosis of the liver followed lead poisoning.

In cross-examination, Dr. Stoker admitted that Professors Osler and Allbutt were very great authorities, for whom he had profound respect. Admitting that the deceased was a sober man, it was very hard to ascertain the cause of the cirrhosis, apart from the general poisoning of the system if lead poisoning was present.

The Recorder said that he was quite satisfied that the deceased man had suffered from chronic lead poisoning when he was being attended by Dr. Talbot, and he had not the smallest difficulty in coming to the conclusion, on the medical authorities cited, that the cirrhosis of the liver from which Silo died resulted from the lead poisoning which he contracted during his employment. He, therefore, awarded the applicant £300 compensation, with seven guineas costs, and two guineas medical expenses.

Mr. Joseph O'Connor (instructed by Mr. W. S. Boxwell) appeared for the applicant; Mr. Denning, K.C. (instructed by Mr. Sydney Matthews) appeared for the respondents.

CRUSHED BY CATTLE.

Dr. Louis A. Byrne, City Coroner, held an inquest in Jervis street Hospital yesterday, regarding the death of Edward Whelan, a labourer, aged 50 years, of 10 Emily place, Dublin, who was admitted to the hospital on Saturday night last suffering from a dislocated shoulder, and who died on the following day.

From the evidence which was given it appeared that Whelan had been engaged on board the steamship Olive loading cattle at the North Wall, and was knocked down by a bullock. He went home, and was accompanied by his wife to Jervis street Hospital, where he was detained. It was found that the bladder had been ruptured, and the house surgeon (Dr. Sullivan) expressed the opinion that death was caused by shock following the injuries which he described to the jury.

Mr. Norris Goddard, solicitor (Messrs. Goddard and Davidson) appeared for the Laird Line, the owners of the steamship Olive, and expressed sympathy with the widow.

Mr. William Byrne, solicitor (Messrs. Gerald Byrne and Sons) appeared for the next-of-kin.

Mr. W. J. Neely, H.M. Inspector of Factories, was present, and Inspector Byrne and Sergeant Ryan attended on behalf of the Dublin Metropolitan Police.

The jury returned a verdict according to the medical evidence, and added that they were of opinion that sufficient care was not taken in the loading of the cattle.

ROME SCULPTURE SCHOLARSHIP.

On the recommendation of the Faculty of Sculpture of the British School at Rome, the Commissioners for the Exhibition of 1851 have awarded the Rome Scholarship in Sculpture (1920) to Mr. Alfred Frank Hardiman, the son of a master goldsmith of London. Mr. Hardiman started life as an engineering draughtsman, and in 1911 entered the Northampton Institute, and studied for a short time under Mr. Charles Hartwell, A.R.A. While there he won the London County Council Scholarship, taking him for three years to the Royal College of Art. In 1914, with the aid of a special talent scholarship awarded by the London County Council, and a British Institute Scholarship, he entered the Royal Academy Schools, where he won the Landseer Scholarship. He enlisted in the R.A.F. in 1915, and served as engineer's draughtsman throughout the war. The Rome Scholarship is of the value of £250 per annum, and is tenable at the British School at Rome for three years.

A HOME FOR LATE-LEARNERS.

Hertford College, which will possess the finest Oxford war memorial in the beautiful reredos designed for the chapel by Sir Thomas Jackson, was re-founded within living memory out of Old Magdalen Hall, says the Daily Chronicle. Before the unattached students were admitted to the university this was the chief refuge for elderly persons with a pathetic craving for erudition, about one of whom the poet sang:—

"He was fifty-three
When he took his degree,
Which is youngish for Magdalen Hall."

Some of these patriarchs were as slow-witted as the old gentleman in the "Clouds" of Aristophanes, and their little sons, when sent for their "testamurs," would come running out of the schools without the coveted blue slip of paper, and scream at the top of their voices, "Oh, mother, mother, father is ploughed again!" Hertford College still retains this laudable veneration for grey hairs, and is the only Oxford foundation which sets no age limit for scholarships.

REMEDY FOR HIGH PRICES.

Mr. G. N. Barnes, M.P., writing in the October issue of the Comrades' Journal on the claim for higher pensions to meet the increased cost of living, says the remedy for high cost is more production. All else is mere quackery, hence the supreme importance of employment. Get everyone at work, and prices will come down. Chase prices with increased pensions and allowances, and they will go up. "If the country has not got the money—that is, if the things which are expressed in money are not produced—the country cannot pay. This is the hard and unpalatable fact which must be realised sooner or later by everybody, so my advice is to realise it now and advocate production as the only hope of increased pensions or allowances, or, alternatively, as the only hope of lessening prices."

Good. With the exception of Hooper, Layfield, Riley, Hatch, Truffas, Stedman, and Bond, all the other entrants are well known players in competition.

NEWMAN v. AITKEN.

Neither player was in form in yesterday afternoon's session of this match of 16,000 up in Edinburgh. The scratchman's aggregate was 337, with a best break of 83, while Aitken, off many openings, made contributions of 92 and 100. His aggregate was 794. Interval scores:—Newman, 9,408; Aitken (rec. 1,000), 9,094.

In the evening session Newman again did well with best breaks of 73, 251, 140, and 70 (unfinished), while Aitken, after responding with 102 and 110 early on, fell away, his best breaks being 68 and 66. Closing scores:—Newman (in play), 10,105; Aitken, 9,661.

SMITH v. REECE.

At night Smith had matters all his own way, scoring his necessary 665 against Reece's 251. He made his incomplete break of the afternoon into 156, and then, aided by two flukes, made a break of 410, and wound up with 106 (unfinished). Reece did nothing better than 85 and 80. Closing scores: Smith, 10,665; Reece, 6,927.

MR. GEORGE COOK
The well-known Sports and Dramatic Caricaturist writes:—

"I must really write you of the wonderful effect Phosferine had on me. I was doing a caricature of Mr. Tom Payne (the famous walker) and he noticed how very bad my nerves were. He advised me to take Phosferine and—well, I cannot thank him enough for the introduction. I am really wonderful now, steady hand, good lines, good appetite, in fact a different view of life altogether. Phosferine is really wonderful and I have introduced it to a lot of my professional friends."
6, Halifax Street, Merton, Blackpool.

This versatile caricaturist finds he can work with far greater accuracy and effect since Phosferine has enabled him to regain such perfect control and steadiness of his nerves—Phosferine ensures such a regular supply of vital force to his system that he can now always give full scope to his special capacities.

When you require the Best Tonic Medicine, see that you get

SPORTING NEWS.

NOTTINGHAM MEETING—YESTERDAY.

An exceptionally strong programme was discussed at the concluding stage of Nottingham October Meeting yesterday, and, with a great improvement in the weather and attendance, the fixture was most successful. The course rode rather heavy after the copious downpour, but sport was good. Backers started badly when the outsider, Greenspray, proved a comfortable winner of the Colwick Park Selling Plate, but the form was moderate, and Mr. Plummer was able to buy the winner at 250 guineas. Rocksplit was made favourite for the Welbeck Handicap, but had to put up with second place to the bottom weight, More Rain, who was afterwards bought in for 240 gns. The penalised Illuminator, which was made favourite for the Trial Plate was never in the fighting line, the issue being contested by Wee Mon and Orsan, of which the latter stayed the better, and won by a length. A thrilling finish was seen for the Sherwood Nursery. Oxenden, which was favourite from Bumble Bee and Hark Forrard, ran level with this pair and Flaming Sword from the distance, and the verdict fell to Bumble Bee by a neck, with the next separated by heads only. Another thrilling finish was seen for the Elvaston Plate, Lady Peregrine, which was favourite, just getting up to dead heat with Northfleet, after the latter had made all the running. The final race fell to One, which scored rather easily. Details:—

SPORTING PARAGRAPHS.

Cicerone¹ta was struck out of the Cambridgeshire after 5 p.m. on Monday.

Corn Kale has been struck out of all engagements.

The following horses have been struck out of the Duke of York Stakes: Kempton—Manilardo, Wavy Stripe, Mambrino, and Square Measure.

Mr. Richard Croker has purchased Wavy Stripe, and the horse will carry his colours in the Cambridgeshire, and be ridden by M. Beary.

The following trial took place at Newmarket yesterday morning:—B. Jarvis's Corporal, 1; Goldendale, 2; Romana, 3; Nova Cygnus, 4. Five furlongs. Won by a neck; half a length between second and third.

LONDON BETTING—YESTERDAY.

Last night's wagering on the Cesarewitch found Blue Dun a firmer favourite than ever, no more than 9 to 2 being offered at the close. Bracket was easier than Holbeach at nines, and Golden Guinea went best of the others, of whom Greek Scholar and Spearwort had friends at 100 to 5. For the Cambridgeshire, Square Measure and Southern were the most request. Prices:—

BOYS' BRIGADE GALA.

The feature of this gala at Iveagh Baths on Monday night was the two matches in the Irish Senior Water-Polo Cup Competition, both of which produced keen games. There was also an excellent programme of handicap events, confined to members of the Boys' Brigade, and an open 100 yards handicap, the latter resulting in a highly popular win for T. V. Chute. Details:—
44 Yards Breast Stroke (Beginners)—F. Rogers, 1.
44 Yards Handicap (Juniors)—F. Devitt (6), 1; A. T. Rea (scr.), 2.
100 Yards Championship of Battalion—R. W. Poots, 1; E. Wheeler, 2; T. Morrison, 3.
66 Yards Officers' Handicap—R. Hughes (12), 1; R. Love (4), 2; A. C. Sibthorpe (12), 3.
Battalion Squadron Championship—21st Company (Rathmines), 1; 14th Company (St. George's), 2.
Diving Competition—E. Wheeler (scr.), 1; R. W. Poots (5), 2.
66 Yards Past Members' Handicap—S. McNeill (7), 1; C. Butler (5), 2; R. W. Mather (scr.), 3.
100 Yards Handicap (Open)—Saturday Post Cup. The following were the best winners—T. V. Chute (25), O. Armstrong (3), R. Love (10), E. Benson (6), E. Kennedy (15). Final—T. V. Chute, 1; E. Kennedy, 2; E. Benson, 3.

IRISH WATER-POLO CUP.

Dublin University, 5 goals; Clontarf, 2 goals.
This was a very keenly-contested game, in which at half-time the score stood two goals all, Trinity only asserting their superiority in the second half. Parcell (3) and Owens (2) were the scorers for the winners, while T. Corrigan scored for Clontarf.
Sandycove, 3 goals; Dublin S.C., 2 goals.
This was another good game, with the result hanging in the balance till the end. Hickey, J. Egan, and Walsh scored for Sandycove, and F. Leland (2) for the losers.

CHANTICLEER'S NOTES.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM.)

MANCHESTER, TUESDAY NIGHT.

With clear dates, the Haydock Park fixture should prove a huge success. A fair amount of rain has fallen, but the course will afford good going. Lord Durham's Roker will shoulder top weight in the October Handicap, and is much fancied. So, too, is Enniskeen, who is nicely treated on best form. Felim will run well, but my vote goes to ROKER, with most to fear from Enniskeen. My other selections are:—
Lowton Handicap—Main Royal.
Glazebrook Handicap—Brussiloff.
Newton Nursery—Charlie's Fancy.
Earlstown Plate—Corsican.
Ashton Plate—Balthazar.

GOLF.

£590 TOURNAMENT.

JAMES MARTIN'S FINE DISPLAY.

James Martin, of Milltown Club, Dublin, scored a fine win over Peter Rainford (Reddish Vale) in the first round of the £590 Tournament at Mid Surrey yesterday. Rainford opened splendidly by winning the first three holes, but, after this, Martin found his best game. He won the 5th and 7th holes, and turned only 1 down. A succession of halves followed in perfect play, but Martin captured the 16th in a splendid 4, to square the match. The 17th was halved, and the issue depended on the last hole. Rainford was over the green with his approach, and his pitch back left him too much to do. He played the odd, and left himself a half stymie from less than a yard, and he failed at the putt. Martin holed his two-footer for the hole and the match.

Surprising results accrued in two cases, these being the defeats of J. H. Taylor and James Braid by Rowland Jones and James Ockenden respectively. Taylor had been estimated to have a good chance of winning the competition on recent form, especially as he had won the tournament on the two occasions that it had been played at Richmond. He, however, fell behind at the second hole, but he squared at the next. He was one to the good at the 5th, but Jones squared at the 6th after a magnificent shot from among the hillocks. The Mid Surrey man eventually turned one up, but the match was once more squared at the 12th, where Taylor put his ball among the branches of a tree and took six strokes. Jones became one up at the 14th, and Taylor, badly pushing his drive out at the 17th, lost a great opportunity of squaring. Jones was now dormy one, and as he halved the last hole he won the match. Braid won the first two holes from Ockenden, and turned one up. Ultimately his opponent got level, and in time became dormy 2. Braid won the 17th, but he was unsuccessful in his endeavour to win the home hole, and so save the match. Duncan led Walton by 2 holes at the turn, and in the end won by 2 and 1; while Mitchell, after losing the first hole, turned 2 up on King, and finally won by 5 and 4. The redeeming feature of the day, from the point of view of the old school, was Herd's win. Three down to Roberts at the 13th, he was afterwards 2 down with 3 to play. However, he won the 16th and 17th, and amidst great enthusiasm he holed a twenty yards putt on the home green to win the match. The second and third rounds will be played to-day.

PLANS OF THE IRISH OFFICE

CIVILIAN CHARGED IN LONDON.

CROWN PROSECUTOR'S STATEMENT.

Michael O'Kelly Symington (22), the young man who is charged with being in unlawful possession of four Service rifles, made another appearance at Lambeth (London) Police Court yesterday. There were two fresh charges. One was of having, while a clerk in the Office of Works, stolen nine plans of the Irish Office in Old Queen street, Westminster, and the second was of having retained possession of the plans, contrary to the Officials Secret Act of 1911.

Mr. J. H. MacDonnell, solicitor (instructed by Mr. Art O'Brien, of the Irish Self-Determination League), appeared on behalf of the accused.

Mr. Travers Humphreys, who appeared for the Director of Public Prosecutions, detailed the charges against the prisoner, and said that he would ask the magistrate (Mr. C. K. Francis) to further remand Symington sine die on the charge of being in possession of four Lee-Enfield rifles. They were made in 1916, and after use had been put away, and they were not again seen until they were found in the possession of the defendant. The defendant, counsel continued, was employed as an assistant in the Office of Works from April 10th, 1916, until August 31st of that year, when he left to join the Army. He was demobilised in February last year, and returned to his old position in March, 1919. On July 9th of this year he left of his own accord, having written the letter giving the reasons for his action. In a covering letter to the head of his department he said—"You will, doubtless, be surprised to learn that I have forwarded my resignation. This course has been forced on me by a variety of private considerations, and, in a personal sense, is reluctant, but the private worries I have hinted at in my last conversation with you have reached a crisis.—J. D."

AN INTEREST IN THE IRISH OFFICE.

It was curious, said Mr. Travers Humphreys, why anyone should take plans of buildings in the vicinity of Old Queen street in this way. "The motive," he went on, "is always interesting in a case of this sort, and I think it is not very far to seek, when you know the contents of some of the documents found in defendant's possession when he was arrested. Nos. 36 and 38 Old Queen street are the Irish Office, and these two houses form the official office in London of the Chief Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. The defendant took a very keen interest, I am afraid, of a sinister character in the Irish Office and Irish affairs. Among the documents found in his possession, said counsel, were a book of minutes of meetings of the Clapham branch of the Irish Self-Determination League of Great Britain, which seemed to be the English branch of the Sinn Fein movement, and closely connected with the soi-disant Irish Republic. The accused was Secretary of the Clapham branch, and was a very active sympathiser and organiser of this concern. He was interested in the Munitions of War Fund for Ireland, and among the documents found was one bearing the printed heading—"Government of the Irish Republic. Five per cent. registered certificates, 1919." The flag of the Irish Republic was found in the defendant's lodgings. Counsel said that he would call evidence, and asked that the defendant be committed for trial on these two charges.

Police Constable Duncan repeated the evidence given last week by Detective Sergeant Napthine, who was too unwell to attend the court.

The magistrate then remanded the prisoner sine die on a charge of being in possession of rifles, and the remaining two charges were then gone into.

LANDLADY'S EVIDENCE.

Mrs. Amelia Hope, of 36 Kellett road, Brixton, said that the accused and his wife took two rooms there on July 30th, and remained until September 21st. He left a box of papers and some crockery behind when he left, and said he would come back and pay witness.

"Did he have any regular work while he was with you?" asked Mr. Travers Humphreys.

Witness—No, he used to stay in bed until twelve or one o'clock in the day.

Witness said that she went to the police in consequence of finding something in the room which Symington had occupied, and on September 26th, on which day the accused came to Kellett road, he was arrested by the police. In the box which Symington had left behind she saw a yellow, green and white flag, but the accused took this away one day, together with some papers. Subsequently witness showed the box to the police.

In reply to Mr. MacDonnell, witness said that she found the rifles on the Friday before Symington was arrested. They were concealed behind the wardrobe, tied up in sacking.

Mr. MacDonnell—Did you go upstairs with Symington on the day he was arrested?

"No," replied witness, "I was attending to the muffin man at the time."

Herbert William Spencer, staff clerk in the engineering division of the Office of Works, said that the accused was employed under him in 1916, and again in 1919.

The further hearing was adjourned for a week, the magistrate refusing bail.

POSTAL STRIKE AT AMSTERDAM.

A strike of employés at the Central Posts and Telegraph Office, and also at the Bourse telegraph office, took place this afternoon, says an Amsterdam telegram, dated Tuesday, about two hundred operators leaving their desks. As, however, a certain number of operators are continuing to work, a restricted service, including that to foreign countries, will be maintained. A number of postal employés have also gone on strike. The object of the strike is to protest against the delay in increasing salaries, having regard to the high cost of living.

CIVIL SERVANT COURT-MARTIALLED.

ALLEGED POSSESSION OF ARMS.

ACCUSED FOUND NOT GUILTY.

A district courtmartial assembled at Marlborough Barracks, Dublin, yesterday, when Edward Traynor, 106 Botanic avenue, Dublin, was charged with having a revolver and four rounds of ammunition in his possession on the 22nd September.

Messrs. E. A. Swayne, K.C., and J. A. Costello (instructed by Mr. J. Dwyer), appeared for the accused, who pleaded not guilty.

A military officer stated that about two o'clock on the morning in question he went with a party to the residence of the accused, who was in bed. The house was searched, and nothing was found. Witness sent a party to search the garden, and, in consequence of a report made to him by one of that party, he arrested the accused. One of the search party of the garden handed witness a bag in which he found a revolver, more or less complete and two incomplete, and four rounds of ammunition.

Mr. Swayne pointed out that the complete revolver was defective, as the hammer was broken, and asked—As the weapon stands, is it not wholly ineffective?

Witness—Yes?

Mr. Swayne put some questions as to the Christian name for which witness inquired on going to the house, and then asked—It was not the case of Edward Traynor that brought you to search the house?

It was not part of my instructions. He continued to say that at the end of the garden a lane runs. He took precautions that the back should be approached as well as the front. The lane wall was about five feet high.

Counsel suggested that it would be easy for a person to drop anything over such a wall.

A soldier proved to finding in a corner of the garden the bag containing three revolvers and four rounds of ammunition.

Mr. Swayne, for the defence, said that it was a case in which a most unfortunate mistake had been made. The accused was aged 57, and had been all his life in the Civil Service, and for 27 years had been in the Irish Land Registry Department, in which only the most trusted officials were employed. He had a salary of £540 a year, and was it seriously to be suggested that he would jeopardise the work of his whole life and jeopardise his pension. During the war, although beyond the age, the accused volunteered for any service he might be able to render. Counsel added that the accused took part in the work of the St. Vincent de Paul Society and other charitable movements. The bag containing the articles which formed the subject of the charge was, counsel suggested, thrown away by someone for the simple reason that they were useless. The accused never touched politics in the whole course of his life.

Evidence of the high character of the accused was given by the head of his department. Other witnesses were present to depose to his good character.

The Prosecutor said that he was willing to accept statements as to the good character of the accused, and he did not wish to cross-examine any such witnesses.

Accused was found not guilty, and acquitted.

ARRESTS OF KILKENNY MEN.

REMARKABLE STORIES AT COURTMARTIAL.

TRIAL ADJOURNED.

At a District Courtmartial at Marlborough Barracks, Dublin, yesterday, a young man named Michael Loughman, of New street, Kilkenny, was charged with committing an act prohibited by regulation 27 of the Defence of the Realm Act in that at Kilkenny between 8 and 9 o'clock on the evening of the 16th July he assaulted one Richard Monks, and that he imprisoned and detained him in prison for eight days against his will. There was a further charge against the accused of assaulting Michael Brennan at Kilkenny on the evening of the 14th July, and of imprisoning him for a period of eleven days against his will.

Accused refused to plead, as he did not recognise the court.

One of the alleged arrested men stated that on the 16th July he was going along the Hebron road between 8 and 9 o'clock when he was met by the accused, whom he identified, and four other men. The five men caught hold of him and knocked him down and twisted his arms and legs. Accused stood over him with a revolver. Witness struggled and accused pulled out his whistle and blew it. Almost immediately about forty men jumped over the ditches on to the road. He was then blindfolded, and the accused and the four men brought him to a motor car and put him into it. Just before the car started he heard an order given that if he gave any resistance he was to be shot. Witness was taken to an unknown destination, and kept there for eight days under an armed guard of six men.

Cross-examined by accused—If you were blindfolded how could you identify me as one of those who brought you to the motor car? I would not be right sure who brought me when blindfolded. Before I was blindfolded you were standing over me.

What were you arrested for? I do not know.

Were you not arrested for the robbery at Major Joyce's? No, I was not, and know nothing at all about it.

Hadn't the property of Major Joyce to be handed back by you when arrested? No, I had no stuff, good or bad.

Another of the men alleged to have been arrested said that on the 14th July he was seized by the accused and several other men, knocked down, carried into a stable, and searched, and some articles that he had in his possession taken from him. He was blindfolded and taken in a motor car to an unknown destination. He got the bandage off his eyes and identified the accused as one of the men who were taking him in the motor car. They told him that if he shouted they would shoot him. He was brought to a house and kept there until midnight the following night, when he was brought to another house where he was kept until 23rd July, when he escaped. At the time of his escape he was practically in his skin. Several shots were fired after him, and he jumped into a river and swam in the centre while men followed him on both banks. He had to get out of the river at Kilkenny woollen mills, and he was then recaptured, tied up, and thrown into a heap of briars. He was there until the following morning, when some men who were working in a field liberated him. He also said that he was tried by a court of civilians, and a charge made against him which he denied.

A sergeant of police was to have been the next witness, but it was stated that he was ill and unable to attend.

The accused said that it was the duty of the sergeant to come and state that he (accused) was at work in a cinema at the time in question. The sergeant would be able to give evidence to that effect.

The President said that if the accused wished to have the sergeant called in his defence, the Court could be adjourned until he was able to attend.

The accused said that he was not calling any witness in his defence, but it was very hard on him to have the case adjourned, as he had already been in custody for seven weeks on a charge that he knew nothing about.

After consultation, the President said that they considered that the witness referred to was a necessary witness in the interests of justice, and the Court would apply to the Dublin District that the Court might go down to Kilkenny to take the evidence of the witness who was unable to come.

The Court accordingly adjourned.

COURTSMARTIAL TRIALS IN BELFAST.

COUNTY ARMAGH CIVILIANS CHARGED.

A general court-martial assembled at Belfast yesterday for the trial of Patrick Gallogly, who resides at Cashel. Accused, who is quite youthful in appearance, has five charges against him, all of which are preferred under 24 and 25 Vic., chap. 100. He was defended by Mr. P. J. McQuaid and Mr. G. Martin.

The first charge against the accused alleged that he, on the 6th of September last, at Tullymacrieve, in County Armagh, shot with a revolver at a farmer residing there, with intent to murder him. The second or alternative charge alleged that, at the same time and place, he aided, abetted, and assisted a certain person unknown to shoot with a revolver at the said farmer, with intent to murder him.

The third charge alleged that, at the same time and place, he unlawfully struck the said farmer on the head with a gun. Alternatively, accused was charged with aiding, abetting, and assisting in the commission of the alleged offence.

On the fifth charge it was alleged against the accused that he assaulted the said farmer by striking him on the head with a gun, thereby occasioning him actual bodily harm.

To each of the charges accused entered a plea of not guilty.

Mr. McQuaid informed the Court that he only received particulars of the charges and the summary of evidence the previous day, and he had not, therefore, been able to instruct counsel. He accordingly applied for an adjournment.

The Court granted the application, and accused was removed under escort.

The district court-martial convened for the trial of Joseph Lavelle, of Ballintemple, County Armagh, and Bernard Toal, of Cavankill, also in County Armagh, was to have re-assembled in Belfast yesterday, but, consequent on the illness of one of the accused—Joseph Lavelle—who is lying in the prison hospital, the proceedings were further adjourned.

The following telegram, of Monday's date, has been received in Paris from Warsaw:—General Poeymiran, commanding the present operations, has informed General Lyautey that the occupation of Wazzan constitutes a complete success. Communications have been extended to Wazzan. The political importance of these results he emphasises, and states that the Sultan has evinced his satisfaction at them. Colonel Colombia has reached Wazzan, after punishing the recalcitrant mountaineers.

The trial of John Hunter Murray Pollock, 48, merchant; Max Hurley, 33, draughtsman, and William John Foster, 44, architect, on charges of conspiring to defraud the Ministry of Munitions of large sums of money, and conspiring and promising to give bribes to agents serving under the Crown, concluded at the Old Bailey yesterday, when the jury found all three prisoners guilty. Sentence was postponed, it being stated that there was another indictment against the defendants, which his lordship said he would take on the 13th.

At Plymouth yesterday, Cyril Victor Tennyson Saunders, 21, lance-corporal in the Royal Corps of Signals, was committed for trial charged with the murder of his cousin and sweetheart, Dorothy May Saunders, on September 23rd. The police constable who was in charge of the accused after his arrest said that Saunders made with emotion a statement in which he explained that he and the girl had exchanged wristlet watches, and while they were in the doorway of a shop returning each other's watches he stabbed her with a knife.

In London the Stock Markets were steady, but a cautious attitude was adopted by dealers. Both loan and bill rates were easier. In Dublin the market was very quiet, with prices tending to lower levels.—(P. 7.)

A Way Out.

The Chief Secretary's letter to the Public Health Council of Ireland is a very clear explanation of the Irish Government's action in withholding State grants from municipal bodies. The Council had impressed upon the Executive the dire results that must follow from the closing of tuberculosis hospitals, the neglect of child welfare, and the enlargement of lunatics. Sir Hamar Greenwood realises the "appalling misfortune," but he puts the responsibility on the right shoulders. The whole fault lies with those who repudiate the statutory procedure on which the Local Government Board is bound by law to insist as a condition of the grants. These grants are public money. It is the Board's duty to certify, after audit, that they have been expended properly. Some of the grants are made before the audit is held. Therefore, when many bodies decided to ignore the Board's authority, it required from all public bodies an assurance that, if the advances were made, it would not be prevented from certifying the expenditure. In all cases where this assurance has not been given the grants have been withheld. In some cases the defiance of the Board's authority has been flagrant. Councils have dismissed their treasurers, have appointed illegal trustees, and have issued a flat defiance to all statutory regulations and orders. In other cases municipal bodies merely have ignored the request for an assurance and have made no ruling on the question of submission to audit. The distinction is important because the Chief Secretary's letter announces a substantial concession. The Irish Government is willing to withdraw its demand for a specific assurance that the Local Government Board's auditor shall not be impeded in the fulfilment of his duty. If, in fact, the auditor gets the usual facilities, and passes the accounts, the public health grants will follow as a matter of course. The advantage of the assurance on which the Government has ceased to insist is that it enables grants on account of current expenditure to be made in advance of the audit.

If only we could postulate a fair measure of common-sense in the Corporation and the existence of a sound public opinion among the citizens, the Chief Secretary's letter would solve the difficulty in Dublin. In one respect the Corporation has defied the Government openly, but in another its attitude is still doubtful. It has refused to strike a rate on account of malicious injuries. Claims awarded against it under this head will be deducted, therefore, from the Government grants, but the amount of such claims up to the present is comparatively small. On the other hand, the Corporation has not committed itself irrevocably to an absolute defiance of the Local Government Board in the matter of the audit. It has refused, indeed, to give the required assurance that the accounts will be submitted; but, so far as we can learn, it has not pledged itself to refuse to submit them when the auditor presents himself in due course. Now the demand for an explicit assurance has been withdrawn, and surely, in the vital interests of Dublin—however jealous the Corporation may be of its dignity—concession on the one side deserves to be met by concession on the other. If the Corporation gives the usual facilities for the next audit, the Government grants—minus a certain deduction for malicious injury awards—will be handed over to it. Obviously, however, it needs immediate advances if the whole machinery of public health is not to collapse; and, therefore, common-sense suggests that it should give the Local Government Board notice of its readiness to submit the accounts at the proper time. Even, however, if that proposal sticks in its throat, the matter seems to be capable of a quite decorous adjustment. The Council may be willing to give to the banks an assurance which it would not give to the Board, and, in that event, the banks might consent to advance the necessary sums. Another way out of the difficulty is suggested by the letter which the official heads of the medical profession have addressed to the Lord Mayor of Dublin.

The whole affair would be slightly ridiculous if the issues at stake were not so grave. Nobody wants to make the Corporation look foolish. No sensible citizen will care twopence how the trouble is settled if only it is settled quickly and finally. The settlement which now becomes possible would be a victory or a defeat for neither the Corporation nor the Irish Government. The latter makes an important concession; the former is asked to give, definitely or implicitly, an undertaking which all the customs and safeguards of ordinary business demand. The submission of the expenditure of public money to public audit has no more to do with politics than has the purchase of a postage stamp. The issue involved in this trivial quarrel is nothing less than the health and comfort of more than three hundred thousand human beings in the capital of Ireland. Already a lamentable amount of mischief has been done. The victims of a fell disease have been returned from hospitals to their homes in the slums. Hungry school-children are deprived of food on the eve of all the want and rigours of a Dublin winter. Hapless lunatics are being let loose upon the community with results that may be tragic for themselves and, perhaps, for others. The essential decencies of public life are beginning already to decline into a hateful squalor. All these things are the prelude to a season which is likely to be marked by slackness of trade and widespread unemployment. We do not question the Corporation's right to its political views, but we urge it to remember its immense responsibilities to the citizens of Dublin. Its first duty is the restoration of the public health services, and we hope most earnestly that it will seek to find no further excuses for delay.

Prospects of Trade.

The outlook for trade and employment is not cheerful, but it is not so gloomy as some pessimists want us to believe. The fact is that we have reached the end of a period of unnatural prosperity and have entered the most difficult part of the road to "normal" conditions. Recently there has been a slackening in the foreign demand for British products, and manufacturers have been forced to realise that the home markets cannot absorb the whole of the output from the factories even at a time when the per capita production is on a very low level as regards volume. After the Armistice our customers bought on credit, and now some of them have reached the stage where they cannot continue to create fresh credit in order to support the increasing level of prices. Consequently certain markets are virtually closed to British goods, and our industries are beginning to suffer. At some of the great steel factories in Sheffield the men have received a week's notice to cease work; the Yorkshire mill-owners have notified their employés that they may have to go on "short time"; in Lancashire thousands of looms are idle; and the boot and hosiery trades also show signs of depression. The situation, undoubtedly, is serious, but in some quarters there is a disposition to exaggerate its seriousness. It must be obvious to every intelligent observer that the "post-war boom" has not run its full course. The ravages of war have not been repaired, and the five years' deficit in productive effort has not been met. Therefore, there should still be work for everybody who wants to work, and a brisk flow of orders. What, then, has caused the present "slump"? The answer is that prices have reached the point where they choke demand, and employers and workers resist any tendency to reduce the level. When the manufacturer feels a decline in demand his natural impulse is to decrease production. The wage-earner, on his part, prefers to work short time at the same hourly rate of wages than to accept payment on a lower scale for a full week's output. He is blind to the fact that his attitude helps to keep prices high and real wages low. The net result is a further reduction in demand through the contraction of the margin of expenditure. The only solution for the present difficulty lies in a readjustment of the price level to a point where demand will revive and production be stimulated. That, of course, will not be accomplished easily. In a self-contained community it would present few difficulties. The contraction of expenditure upon luxuries and a diversion of productive effort to the manufacture of necessaries would have the desired effect. Economically, however, the United Kingdom is not an independent unit, and under the present financial conditions it is difficult to calculate the effects of price movements. There may be, for instance, a fall in the world level of prices without a corresponding readjustment here, and in that event the effect would be lost in an adverse movement of exchange. In America the price level has undergone a considerable decline during recent months, but the effort to find a market for goods for which the demand in the United States is restricted has not been followed by the appreciation of the pound in New York. Labour can do a great deal to lessen the difficulties that lie ahead by abstaining from unnecessary disputes. In its own interests it should call a truce.

Dearer Bread.

In ten days' time the price of the four-pound loaf will be increased by threepence. This disagreeable announcement was made by the Ministry of Food last night. The public may resent it, but there is consolation in the knowledge that the increase is a step towards the abolition of State subsidies. Last month, in order to keep the bread subsidy within due bounds, the Government raised the price of flour by 22s. 6d. per sack, but it forbade the bakers to make a corresponding advance in the price of the loaf until the stocks which they had purchased at the old price had been exhausted. That point has now been reached. The Government believes that an additional threepence will provide the baker with an ample margin, and it issues a warning that, if he is not content with it, control may be reimposed. The Chancellor of the Exchequer hopes that the whole of the bread subsidy may be withdrawn at the end of this financial year without making further demands upon the consumer's purse. There have been abundant harvests in several of the more important wheat-producing countries, and it is probable that there will be a break in the world-price of grain before very long. An improvement in the state of the American exchange would be a great help, for the present depreciated value of the pound sterling in New York adds 35s. to the cost of every quarter of wheat that we purchase in the United States.

The Dublin Hospitals.

The Chief Secretary's statement that Ireland will receive her "due proportion" of the £700,000 that the Committee of the National Relief Fund has allocated for the relief of the voluntary hospitals in the United Kingdom is highly encouraging. Sir Hamar Greenwood has not disclosed the basis upon which the money will be distributed, but we may assume that the term "due proportion" means that the Irish hospitals will receive a very considerable sum—probably between £60,000 and £70,000. We hope that this fact will not interfere in any way with the fête which is to be held at Ballsbridge in aid of the Dublin hospitals. Their position is precarious in the extreme, and now, when the health services of the country are threatened with collapse in consequence of the withdrawal of State grants to local authorities, the demands upon their resources probably will be greater than ever. It is estimated that a sum of at least £100,000 is needed to place the Dublin hospitals on a sound financial basis, and, even if that amount is raised, they will not be out of danger. The cost of maintenance tends to increase every month. Our advice to everybody connected with the fête and to the public is to leave the donation from the National Relief Fund out of their calculations altogether. The "due proportion" may mean very little, and, even if it means £60,000, every penny that Dublin can raise will be needed.

DEARER BREAD.

DECONTROL TO TAKE EFFECT ON OCTOBER 18.

The Food Controller desires to draw the attention of the public to the fact that on and after October 17 next the retail prices of bread and flour will be decontrolled. As the public and the trade are already aware, in order that the bread subsidy should not exceed the sum of £45,000,000 sanctioned by Parliament, the wholesale price of Government flour was increased 22s. 6d. per sack of 280lb. on and after September 13 last, but in order to give the public the benefit of the stocks in the hands of bakers and retailers which they purchased at the lower price, the control of the retail prices of bread and flour was temporarily reimposed. This control will cease on and after October 17 next, by which date it is anticipated that the cheaper priced stocks in the hands of bakers and retailers will have been exhausted.

This increase of 22s. 6d. per sack is, as stated by the Chancellor of the Exchequer in the House of Commons in August last, equivalent to an increase of 3d. in the 4lb. loaf or 1½d. per 2lb. loaf. As the price now ruling in London and other important centres in the country is 1s. per 4lb. loaf, the public are warned that on and after the 17th inst. a reasonable price will be 1s. 3d., the present extra charges for delivery to be added.

It will be left to the public and to competition to confine the increase to the 3d. referred to, but the Food Controller reserves the right, where he is of the opinion that the increase made is unreasonable, to reimpose maximum prices, either locally or throughout the country as a whole.

Inasmuch as the amount of the subsidy is based upon the total cost of the wheat purchased throughout the year, it is possible that any continued fall in wheat prices will permit of the subsidy being abolished by the end of the financial year without any further increase in the wholesale price of flour or the retail price of flour and bread.

THE PRIME MINISTER.

The Prime Minister was in London yesterday and was busily engaged for some hours at 10 Downing street, but had few visitors. No meeting of the Cabinet was held, nor has any been summoned.

When the Prime Minister leaves London for North Wales on Thursday he will be accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd George, who at Llandudno on Friday morning will lay the foundation stone of the first house under the local housing scheme. Mr. Lloyd George will be back in London for the reception of the Prince of Wales on Monday.

LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
TUESDAY NIGHT.

Not, perhaps, since that day in December, 1885, when an anonymous paragraph announced that, if Mr. Gladstone returned to office, he was prepared to "deal in a Liberal spirit with the demand for Home Rule"—thus reversing the policy that he had pursued up to a few months before—has any political pronouncement on Ireland created so much excitement as Mr. Asquith's letter in The Times to-day. Unlike Lord Grey and Lord Morley—who, the one from failing eyesight, and the other from age, must be regarded as in retirement—Mr. Asquith is still an active politician, and the leader of the Independent Liberal Party.

That he should set his name to a proposal which virtually concedes to Ireland independence in everything but name is a portent which has surprised everybody. The Times, while welcoming the spirit of the letter, interjects some pertinent criticisms, as when it hints a doubt of Mr. Asquith's assumption that an Irish Government would not be "so insane" as to create an Irish Navy, or deny British warships free access to Irish harbours. As it drily observes, "the Irish might claim autonomy in insanity."

Even the faithful Westminster Gazette, which usually regards any proposal of Mr. Asquith's as being inspired, is evidently not quite sure whether on this occasion he has not gone a little too far. It expresses the belief that he "will eventually be driven to the conclusion that some such plan as Lord Grey proposes will be necessary to fulfil the conditions that he himself lays down."

Other journals are far more outspoken. The Evening Standard calls Mr. Asquith's letter "the most absolute surrender to violence in Ireland on record," and to his optimistic assurance that no Irish Government would be so insane as to spend its money on a Navy replies that "it does not cost very much to buy enough submarines to be a thorn in the side of the greatest Navy afloat."

Similarly, Mr. Asquith's readiness to allow Ireland to maintain an adequate military force "for the purpose of local defence," causes the Pall Mall Gazette to ask whether she would be within her rights in providing such a force with German instructors. The curious thing is that the Liberal leader has actually gone further in this respect than Mr. de Valera himself. That gentleman is reported to have stated his readiness to compromise on "the Cuban plan," which means that Ireland should receive independence on condition that she should never pass to a foreign Power, never have an army or a fleet, and never be under financial obligations to any country but Britain.

Mr. de Valera, by the way, is said by the writer of a "Londoner's Diary" in the Evening Standard to be very anxious to come to London to talk things over with Mr. Lloyd George, but, as he makes the condition that he should be treated as "President," it is not considered probable that the meeting will take place.

The Prime Minister is going to Wales on Thursday to carry out three important engagements of long standing. On Friday he will address the Welsh National Liberal Council at Llandudno, and this will be the only speech of a purely political flavour that he will make before Parliament meets again. On Saturday he will go to Carnarvon, where he will receive an address from the Carnarvon County Council, and later in the day he is to go to Bangor to receive the freedom of the town. Mr. Lloyd George intends to return to London on Sunday, in preparation for a busy week preceding the reassembling of Parliament.

At Llandudno on Friday the Prime Minister will devote his speech largely, if not solely, to the situation in Ireland. He will be greatly tempted to divert his audience by making hay of Mr. Asquith's letter, which offers exceptional opportunity for Mr. Lloyd George's gift for badinage. But I hope and believe that he will resist the temptation to enlarge on this aspect of the question, and will use the occasion to indicate his own Irish policy. He will, no doubt, also deal with the reprisals, and with the accusations of the New Statesman, to which I referred yesterday.

The deaths are recorded to-day of two men well known in the literary world. Mr. William Heinemann was quite a young man when he founded his publishing business in 1890, and quickly made a reputation for originality. His special flair was for Continental authors likely to interest English readers, and he was the first to publish the works of many novelists whose names are now household words, his greatest find, perhaps, being Mr. Joseph Conrad.

It must be close on forty years since I first met Mr. C. N. Williamson, who was then a hard-working journalist on the staff of the Graphic. In 1890 he left that journal in order to found a new illustrated paper called Black and White, since absorbed by the Sphere, and a few years later he married Miss Alice Livingston, an American writer, and started, with her, one of the most successful and productive collaborations on record. The "Williamson novels," a happy blend of guide-book and romance, have long been numbered among the "best sellers."

Russia seems to be dissolving before our eyes, if one may judge by the varied reports from interested sources to-day. It may be that the Red troops refuse to fight any longer and that the people are famished, but MM. Lenin and Trotsky have such a hold of the country and Government that it may be some time before they are shaken from the saddle. The German-Jewish adventurers who are now running, or ruining, Russia may, however, precipitate matters by leaving the country while they are safe. It has been said for some time that the leaders have all sent money abroad in readiness for the moment when they will find it necessary to give up governing.

Five years ago to-day the Allies landed their first forces at Salonika, and the first British soldiers to be landed were the 10th (Irish) Division, commanded by Sir Bryan Mahon. Many people have thought the landing of troops at Salonika a mistake, but there is no doubt about the fact that the men did their part in helping towards final victory, for, in addition to making King Constantine realise his position, they helped to overthrow Bulgaria when the hour was ripe.

The Triple Alliance of the trade unions of the miners, the railwaymen, and the transport workers having failed, in the opinion of the extremists, because the full support of the other two unions was not assured to the miners, efforts are now to be made by the miners to bring about a condition of things whereby any move they may decide upon will be supported by the others, even to the length of a strike. If the other two unions refuse to fall in with this point of view, it is quite possible that the Alliance will come to an end.

When the Belgian Premier comes to London next week for the unveiling of the Belgian memorial on the Embankment he is to have interviews with Mr. Lloyd George on Monday and Tuesday, while on the latter day he and the other members of the Belgian delegation will be entertained at dinner by the Government at Lancaster House. Mr. Lloyd George hopes to preside at this dinner. The Belgian Premier, M. Delacroix, had an interview recently with M. Millerand.

THE LORD MAYOR OF CORK.

There was no change in the condition of the Lord Mayor of Cork yesterday.

The Deputy Lord Mayor of Cork yesterday evening received the following telegram:—"No appreciable change.—Father Dominic."

The condition of the eleven prisoners on hunger-strike in Cork Jail continues unchanged.

At 10 o'clock last night it was stated that the condition of the Lord Mayor of Cork was much about the same.

THE WITHHOLDING OF STATE GRANTS.

LOCAL BODIES AND GOVERNMENT AUDIT.

NATIONAL RELIEF FUND AND IRISH HOSPITALS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I am directed by the Irish Public Health Council to forward you a copy of a letter received from the Chief Secretary, in reply to the representations recently made by the Council regarding—

1. The allocation of a substantial share to Ireland of the £700,000 which is being allocated for voluntary hospitals from the National Relief Fund; and

2. The dangers that would be entailed to the health of the community if the State grants to local authorities for health services were withheld.

Yours, etc.,
GEORGE A. HARRIS, Secretary, Irish Public Health Council.
33 St. Stephen's Green, Dublin,
October 5th, 1920.

THE CHIEF SECRETARY'S REPLY.

Chief Secretary's Office, Dublin Castle,
30th September, 1920.

DEAR SIR,—The Chief Secretary desires me to inform you that he has considered the proposal submitted to him by the members of the Irish Public Health Council, who called upon him on the 21st instant.

With regard to the Council's request that a full share of the £700,000 voted by the Committee of the Prince of Wales Fund for voluntary hospitals may be secured for hospitals in Ireland, the Chief Secretary is pleased to be able to inform the Council that Ireland will get its due proportion of the money, which will be allocated among the hospitals upon certain definite principles which will be applicable to the hospitals elsewhere in the United Kingdom.

The Chief Secretary much regrets that he is not able to give the Council an equally favourable reply to their suggestion that the grants for public health service should be continued, notwithstanding the refusal of the public health authorities to submit their accounts to audit. The Local Government Board are bound to certify after audit whether the expenditure in respect of which these grants are made has been duly and properly incurred in accordance with statutory rules and regulations, and they would not be empowered to dispense with these conditions even if it were defensible to do so.

As grants are made, in some cases, on account of the current year's expenditure before the audit takes place, it became incumbent on the Board, owing to the resolutions passed by many of the local authorities determining to ignore the authority of the Local Government Board, to ask for an assurance from these Councils that, if the advances on account were issued, the Board would not be debarred from fulfilling its statutory obligations to Parliament of certifying the expenditure.

The responses to the Board's circular asking for this assurance have made it quite plain that many Councils have no intention of agreeing to the audit and complying with the conditions upon which the grants of public money were made. Some Councils have dismissed their official treasurers (in every instance a bank), and have made illegal arrangements by which all funds coming into their hands shall be paid to private individuals as trustees for the ratepayers, while other Councils have declared that all statutory rules and orders shall be disregarded, and that every obstacle shall be placed in the way of the Government.

It can hardly be expected that public moneys shall be entrusted to local bodies who take up this position. But, in any case, as the law at present stands, the Local Government Board are not possessed of any discretion which would enable them, even in circumstances of the direst necessity, to make advances of public money to local authorities which had thus signified their intention of refusing to account for it according to the regulations.

All that the Public Health Council has urged as to the appalling misfortune which will befall the people of the areas where the beneficent services for the treatment of tuberculosis, child welfare, and other vital public health purposes are suspended, the Chief Secretary fully realises. But the responsibility for the suspension of the services must rest solely with the Councils which have precluded the Board from issuing the grants by their defiance of the law. They have it in their power at any moment to enable the Board to release the money by intimating their willingness to abide by the conditions as to the audit and rules under which the subsidies were originally made, and it appears to the Chief Secretary that the real appeal lies to those local bodies which prefer to sacrifice the health and the lives of the children, the poor, and the afflicted, rather than submit to the reasonable and legal conditions as to the examination of their accounts to which no local authorities in the past have ever objected.

A large number of the local authorities have already given the Local Government Board the assurances they require, and are receiving the State grants in full, and the Chief Secretary cannot discriminate and make special arrangements by legislation or otherwise to enable other Councils to be treated more favourably and relieved from all responsibility for the consequences involved by the repudiation of their bargain with the State.

Some members of the Public Health Council have suggested that many local authorities are quite prepared to allow their accounts to be audited, and to conform to the law and the regulations, although they have not explicitly said so in reply to the Board's circular. This, of course, remains to be proved, and if the Auditor in such cases is given the usual facilities, and completes the audit and passes the accounts and certifies that the expenditure, in respect of which recoupment is claimed, has been duly and properly incurred, any any other obligations towards the Government have been duly met, the public health grants will follow as a matter of course, and the assurance required by the Board will then become superfluous.

But if this really represents the intentions of any Councils, it would be better for them to at once notify the fact to the Board, so that the usual grants on account of the current year's expenditure could be issued without waiting till next year, when the time for the audit will arrive.

More than this the Chief Secretary is unable to promise. If the course suggested is taken, the claim of each Council, as it comes up, will be duly considered, and, where the statutory obligations of the Councils towards the Government are fulfilled and the authority of the Local Government is recognised and a legally appointed treasurer exists, the Government will gladly direct the grants to be made.

This promise applies equally to all statutory committees of the County Councils or District Councils and Boards of Guardians, which have a separate audit and have not associated themselves with the policy of the Councils of their county on the repudiation of the Local Government Board's regulations.

In the case of those bodies, the Irish Government will give favourable consideration to any application they may make for the direct payment of the State subsidies to their own treasurers, instead of to the County Councils on their behalf, as heretofore, provided that their accounts are certified by the Local Government Auditor, or that, in the case of an application for an advance on account of the year's expenditure, it is accompanied by an undertaking from the Committee that the expenditure will be submitted to the Auditor at the proper time, and that all their statutory obligations towards the Government are fulfilled.—Yours truly,

(Signed) C. J. GREGG.

CLOSING OF HOSPITALS IN DUBLIN.

MEDICAL MEN'S OFFER.

The following letter has been addressed to the Lord Mayor of Dublin:—

Royal College of Surgeons, Dublin,
September 22nd, 1920.

MY LORD,—The undersigned view with dismay the lamentable and untoward effect on the public health of Dublin which would inevitably follow the closing of the existing machinery for dealing with public health, and especially with tuberculosis—that disease which has exacted such a heavy toll on the health and welfare of the civic population.

We also recognise what a hardship would be inflicted on poor persons of feeble intellect by the proposed partial closing of the Richmond Asylum.

For these reasons alone we are willing to offer our services to receive and distribute the moneys which the above services should receive from the Treasury—on the conditions, first, that the accounts in full of these institutions be furnished to us in order to be audited by the local Government Board for Ireland; and, second, that we, as trustees, incur no financial liability in regard to the administration of the institutions involved.

Subject to the approval of this scheme by the Municipal Council, we would be willing to approach the Treasury with a view to obtaining their assent to our proposals.

JAMES CRAIG, President, R.C.P.I.
EDWARD H. TAYLOR, President, R.C.S.I.
WM. F. DELANY, Governor, Apothecaries' Hall.
JOHN W. MOORE, M.D., President of the Royal Academy of Medicine.
JAMES S. ASHE, Hon. Secretary.

The appointment was gazetted last night of Sir Reginald Laurence Antrobus to be Gentleman Usher of the Blue Rod of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

FROM "THE TIMES" OF TO-DAY.

(BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH THE PROPRIETORS OF THE TIMES.)

THE DOMINION SOLUTION FOR IRELAND.

The publication of Mr. Asquith's letter in The Times, states that journal to-day, following upon the letter of Lord Morley and the recent statement by Viscount Grey, created, yesterday, considerable stir throughout the country. In the political clubs in London it was the chief topic of discussion. While opinions upon the utterances of the three Liberal statesmen varied considerably, it was generally agreed that they had rendered a public service by directing public attention to the Irish problem, and by insisting that means more adequate than any hitherto employed must be sought for its solution. In official quarters it was, nevertheless, stated that the Government will not be deflected from its course of action by these expressions of Opposition opinion. Some importance was attached to the report that Viscount Grey lunched with the Prime Minister yesterday. We believe, however, that the meeting between them had no direct connection with Viscount Grey's recent statement on the Irish question, but that it related principally to the forthcoming meeting of the Assembly of the League of Nations. Viscount Grey is stated to have been invited by the Prime Minister more than a fortnight ago, but his acceptance of the invitation was deferred until his arrival in London on Monday last. His statement to the Westminster Gazette was written more than two months ago, and was not inspired by the police reprisals in Ireland. In political circles the Prime Minister's forthcoming speech at Llandudno on Friday next is awaited with interest. It is thought probable that, after restating the case for a Coalition Government, he will deal with the condition of Ireland, and announce the Government's intention. Foreign affairs and Labour unrest will also be touched upon in the speech.

LORD DUNRAVEN ON AUTONOMY.

In the course of a long letter to The Times to-day, Lord Dunraven writes:—Three months have now elapsed since Parliament adjourned its discussion of the Government of Ireland Bill. No one will deny that if vacillation and delay has ever been dangerous it has been exceptionally so in the case of a policy of appeasement, and of an attempt to make a settlement of a question involving the reconciliation of parties and agreement to common foundations of a measure of self-government for Ireland. Neither did it require any genius to foresee that during the interval of four months, between June 28th (the last day on which the bill was discussed in the Commons) and the commencement of the autumn session on October 19th, the situation in Ireland would rapidly grow worse. Now she is on the rocks, in danger of breaking up, and nothing but prompt action can save her. Has she been allowed to drift in ignorance or by design? It is not surprising that in Ireland the latter theory prevails. It is, indeed, incomprehensible how, without some sinister object, any Government with their eyes open and experience to guide them could have allowed Ireland to drift into the unprecedented condition that now prevails. Personally, adds Lord Dunraven, I hold to the Federal solution as the only way in which a really satisfactory and lasting union can be obtained, without, at the same time, violating in the least national aspirations and national pride. But whether it be on Federal and State right lines, or any other lines, it is now up to the Government to make a definite offer of the fullest possible measure of autonomy. The people of Ireland have no confidence in the present Government. They want a guarantee that the Government are honest in their intentions to grant them a full measure of autonomy, and, if the Government will use it, they have that guarantee in their hands. If the Government will, as a Government, announce their firm intention of granting a full measure of autonomy by amendment of their bill (which I prefer), or by the introduction of another bill, and of their determination to stand or fall by it, and would, as a preliminary to that policy, advise the King to exercise his prerogative of mercy, they could do so without the smallest tinge of inconsistency, and it is possible the Irish people would at last believe they were in earnest.

THE MINERS' BALLOT.

The Times, in a leading article to-day, states:—The miners of the country are this week coming to a decision, which, when recorded on their ballot papers a few days hence, will be of momentous importance. The public, through their representatives in the Ministry and through the Press, had a share in the arguments and negotiations which have brought about the reference to the miners of a proposal different in form from that which the miners themselves put forward, but intended with good-will and in good faith to yield them not less favourable terms of employment. Now the public, whose interests are so deeply involved, stand as spectators, observing the contest of parties and principles among the miners themselves. It is not the whole public case against their own upon which the miners will be called upon to decide. They have only to consider a specific proposal forged originally in a Government department, which has stood the test of public examination and discussion for several weeks. It has carried the assent of the great mass of public opinion and the weighty approval of some of the miners' leaders. The offer is being put before the miners on an innocent-looking ballot paper, which makes no explicit reference to a strike. The men, and the boys, too, are being asked to accept or reject a method for regulating increases of wages according to output, without any reminder that a position has been created in which the rejection of the offer will "automatically" and immediately, as certain of their Executive say, involve them in a strike. The Miners' Federation has, however, a precaution against the declaration of strikes that are not supported by a sufficient mass of opinion in a wholesome rule which provides that a two-thirds majority must be obtained before a strike can be threatened. In the present case that rule does not apply. The reason is, we are officially told, that a decision to strike was taken two months ago, and still holds good. That decision, as everybody knows, was taken on an issue very different from the issue now before the mining community.

WHEAT AND BREAD PRICES.

Thanks in the main to a plentiful harvest in North America, and to a favourable outlook in the Argentine, says The Times in an editorial article to-day, there is now a good prospect of an ample wheat supply during the next twelve months, and, consequently, of a reduction in wheat prices. It is only in accordance with human nature that British consumers should contrast this fact with the promised increase of the price of the loaf in eleven days' time, and should ask why, if wheat is to be cheaper, bread is simultaneously to become dearer. A moment's reflection on the method by which the national bread supply is provided should justify this unwelcome anomaly, at any rate so far as concerns the increase now imminent. The business of supplying the nation with wheat for its daily bread has been taken over by the Government, and it has acquired large stocks of wheat at the prices of the last few months. Until these stocks have been disposed of a cheaper loaf could only be provided by maintaining the bread subsidy at a higher figure than was sanctioned by Parliament last August. The Food Controller refers to the possibility that a continued fall in wheat prices may allow the bread subsidy to be completely abolished next spring, without the further rise in the price of the loaf which has been anticipated.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

There appeared to be some increase in the volume of business in Stock markets, and the general tone of markets was not unsatisfactory, says The Times. A certain proportion of the dividend money just disbursed was re-invested, and this tended to harden the tone of the gilt-edged section. Canadian Pacific Railway Shares again rose sharply, and all Mexican securities showed strength. More business was in progress in the South African market, and prices showed a general advance, notwithstanding realisations on French account, which also adversely affected certain Oil Shares.

FRENCH PRISONERS FROM RUSSIA.

A Paris telegram, dated Tuesday, says:—A party of 239 French subjects, repatriated from Russia—65 men, 139 women, and 35 children—arrived at the Gare du Nord at midnight on Monday. They complained bitterly of the hardships they had had to endure in Russia, and expressed disappointment that MM. Cachin and Frossart, French Labour delegates, who recently visited Russia, apparently took no interest in their plight.

BRIEF QUARTER SESSIONS IN COUNTY LEITRIM.

County Court Judge Brown, K.C., had to conduct the business of the Ballinamore Quarter Sessions at Carrick-on-Shannon yesterday owing to the Courthouse at Ballinamore having been recently burned down. The business, which chiefly consisted of decrees for non-payment of rent to the Land Commission, was finished in an hour, and usually occupied several days. Only two solicitors, some process-servers, and Court officials, and the Press representatives were present.

POLISH ADVANCE.

TROOPS CROSS THE NIEMEN.

RUSSO-POLISH NEGOTIATIONS.

An official communiqué issued at Warsaw on Tuesday says:—The advanced guard, of the Northern Army group has crossed the Niemen. A detachment of Posnanians has arrived at Neswies and Kleck, while a Polesian detachment, after two days' fighting, has reached the Malkowitschi-Novogrodak line, occupying the whole railway line from Lida to Rovno. Near Orany our troops captured a Lithuanian armed train, which was bombarding our position, in spite of the armistice.

According to a message from Warsaw, dated Sunday, Reuter's Agency learns that the Vice-Premier, M. Daszynski, has left Warsaw for the Polish General Headquarters, in order to discuss the situation with Marshal Pilsudski. It is stated that M. Daszynski is going to Riga at the end of this week, in order to be present at the Russo-Polish negotiations there.

The Polish Prime Minister, M. Witos, received the British Minister to Poland, Sir Horace Rumbold, on Monday, and, in a long interview, discussed with him the Russian and Lithuanian questions.

SHIP STOPPED IN KIEL CANAL.

According to a Berlin telegram, a newspaper report from Kiel says that a Dutch steamer, bound from Rotterdam to Danzig, and conveying two American aeroplanes, equipped with machine guns, for Poland, was "held up" by the German authorities on its arrival at the Holtenau Lock. The captain was informed that the vessel would not be allowed to leave the canal, and must either discharge her cargo or return to Rotterdam.

REVOLTS IN RUSSIA.

BOLSHEVISTS VERY ANXIOUS.

Reuter's Agency is informed that a trustworthy person who has just crossed the frontier into Finland states that in Bolshevik Russia the people generally are hoping that the end of their imprisonment is drawing near. The Red Army is in a state of disorganisation, and the harvest is exceptionally bad. Revolts have broken out in Siberia, in Tamboff, and near Samara. There is very great unrest among the workmen. The Bolshevists are very anxious about Wrangel's successes, and Trotsky's latest call is for the liquidation of the Southern front before the winter. The Bolshevists realise that this winter will be the hardest they have experienced, and are very doubtful whether it will pass calmly. The leaders are very anxious about the whole situation.

A Helsingfors message to Copenhagen states that at the All-Russian Congress, at Moscow, Lenin, describing the situation at the front, said: There is no doubt that the Entente is supporting Poland and Wrangel. A new winter war is hardly avoidable, but it is felt that the military power of the Soviet is sufficient to guarantee final victory.

AMERICAN NEWSPAPER AND IRELAND.

ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY'S VIEWS.

On September 29th the editors of the New York Nation sent the following telegram to the Archbishop of Canterbury:—

"The editors of the New York Nation, at whose suggestion a committee of over 100 representative American citizens has been formed for the investigation of the atrocities in Ireland, express their grateful appreciation of your appeal to Christians for prayer on behalf of Ireland and its people. Our proposed investigation contemplates no political interference or suggestion, but aims only to ascertain facts and fix responsibility. We are concerned for the plain people of Ireland who suffer and die. Unless moral forces can prevail to end disorders, physical force, whose inevitable end is war, must continue to make peaceable solution impossible. American opinion is deeply impressed by the continued employment in Ireland of British soldiers and police apparently too brutal and lawless to be controlled. While noting with satisfaction the recent expressions of concern by the Prime Minister, and the announcement of the inquiry planned by the military authorities, such promises of settlement are vain, in view of the recent attack upon the person and house of Mrs. MacCurtain, subsequent to the dispatch by us of an invitation to her to come to America in October and testify, and by the continued outrages in Belfast, Balbriggan, and elsewhere. The Nation bespeaks your lordship's cordial endorsement of the proposed American investigation, and your help in ending the unspeakable conditions in Ireland, which, if continued, may finally wreck all hope of continued friendly relations between the United States and Great Britain.—Nation."

The Archbishop replied as follows:—

"Lambeth Palace, S.E.,
"2nd October, 1920.

"DEAR SIR,—I have received your telegraphic message dated September 29th. You are not mistaken in supposing that I, in common with all who have at heart the welfare of the United Kingdom and of the British Dominions throughout the world, am anxious to co-operate in every way in what may promote the ending of the present unrest and disorder in Ireland. It seems to me, however, that your message, besides containing expressions to which I should take strong exception, rests, like many other utterances which are now made public, on a mistaken assumption that the existing strife is between Ireland on the one side and England on the other, whereas the real controversy, or contest, is, in the main, between the two great sections of the Irish people themselves. The people of Great Britain, so far as I am able to judge, are practically unanimous in the wish to bring about in Ireland any settlement that its inhabitants as a whole can reasonably desire, provided it be consistent with the welfare of the whole Commonwealth, whereof Ireland is a part. The practical difficulties are due to the present inability of the Irish people as a whole to agree upon any proposal which would meet a general wish on the part of Irishmen. The matter is not one in which I have any special power or opportunity of action, or of direct influence, but no effort on my part would be wanting which might contribute towards bringing to an end conditions which every thoughtful man deplores.

"(Signed) RANDALL CANTUAR."

DUBLIN BANK ROBBED.

£800 TAKEN BY ARMED MEN.

At 11 o'clock yesterday three armed men entered the South Richmond street, Dublin, branch of the Provincial Bank, while two others remained on guard outside the entrance. Of the three who entered one took up a position at the door. The other two covered the staff with revolvers and ordered them not to stir. One of them then went straight to the inner room and cut the telephone wires, and the third made for the cash box and filled his pockets with money. The raiders took away about £800 altogether. There were three customers in the bank at the time, and they were "held up."

From the manner in which the raiders carried out their work, it is assumed that they had acquired a knowledge of the location of the rooms, as one of them walked directly to the cashier's desk. They were on the premises for about a quarter of an hour, and, having given a warning to those in the bank not to leave before 12 o'clock, they walked out in a casual manner and mixed with people who were going along on legitimate business. The men, who are described as being under thirty years of age and wearing trench coats, went away in different directions. Before the raid five men were seen on the footpath opposite to the bank. They separated, and shortly afterwards the officials were confronted by three young men armed with revolvers, who inquired for arms. Having been informed that there were no arms on the premises one of them went to the safe, another to the telephone, while a third stood on guard in the public office. The money taken consisted mostly of bank notes and Treasury notes. No arrests have taken place in connection with the matter.

THE BURNING OF COURTHOUSES.

COUNTY COURT JUDGE COOKE'S REMARKS.

Our Londonderry Correspondent telegraphs:—Owing to the destruction of the Donegal Courthouse, the Crown Sessions for that division of the county were held at Lifford yesterday. Judge Cooke, K.C., who was presented with white gloves, said that they were an embarrassing gift. He had no experience of an instance when they represented absolute crimelessness in the county. Referring to the burning of the courthouses in the country, he presumed that it was an attempt to paralyse the administration of the law. Did people responsible for such acts ever reflect that no matter what Government prevailed in Ireland, whether Republican or non-Republican, courthouses would be required? It meant the loss of £7,000 to the county. Did the people realise that towns had thousands of pounds invested which could not be paid to the people entitled unless the court sat to transact business? As County Court Judge Barry said, it capsized the intellect to understand the mind of men of this kind.

The announcement was gazetted last night that the King has ordained that Gladys Cecil, widow of Captain Hon. William Amherst Cecil, killed in action in 1914, shall enjoy the same title, rank, and precedence as the widow of a peer as would have been due to her had her husband survived his mother and succeeded to the title of Baron Amherst of Hackney.

POLICE BARRACK CAPTURED.

ARMS, AMMUNITION, AND RECORDS SEIZED.

RAIDERS FIRE THE STATION

An official report with reference to an attack on the Constabulary barracks at Schull, County Cork, on Monday night, states that the police in charge of the barracks were overpowered. Arms, ammunition, and records were seized, and the barracks were destroyed. There were no police injured. The attack lasted from 8 p.m. till midnight.

Our Skibbereen Correspondent telegraphs:—Schull police barracks, 15 miles from Skibbereen, and standing by itself on the outskirts of the town, was attacked on Monday night by a large party of armed and disguised men, who took the garrison by surprise. After clearing the building of all arms, ammunition, and equipment, including machine guns, they burnt it to the ground. There were, it is said, no casualties on either side. It is estimated that between one hundred and two hundred civilians took part in the raid, which was wholly unexpected.

The barracks was a substantial two-storeyed building, standing on an eminence, overlooking the village and harbour, and situated about a quarter of a mile from Schull. It was commandeered a couple of months ago, when the old barracks, situated in the centre of the village, was vacated. It was manned by Sergeants Lorgan and Daly, and some 10 or 12 constables. At about 8 o'clock last night these men were surprised by the raiders, who arrived unexpectedly by motor cars and bicycles, travelling by mountain roads of the district. It is stated that some of the men were absent from the barracks at the time, and those that were in the station, before surrendering, put up a very plucky defence, having regard to the great odds against them. They several times refused to comply with the raiders' orders to surrender. Eventually, after four hours' fighting, seeing that further resistance was useless, they laid down their arms.

RAIDERS KNEW THE PASSWORD.

A Press Association telegram says:—The men, it is stated, gave the password "Kilmallock," and were admitted by a constable, the police being taken completely by surprise. The inhabitants of the little hum-drum town knew nothing of what was happening until they saw the barrack ablaze an hour later. There were six policemen in the barrack, and they were allowed to take away their personal belongings. The raiders, who arrived in motor cars, secured a Lewis gun, rifles, revolvers, and ammunition.

MILITARY PATROLS FIRED ON.

CORK CITIZENS ALARMED.

Citizens of Cork were terrified by the heavy firing between "Curfew" patrols and persons who are alleged to have attacked them, for several hours yesterday morning on the South side of the city. Holy Trinity Church bears bullet marks on the front and sides, and on the spire. There are also bullet marks on the monastery of the Capuchins in Margaret street and Mary street, which came within the line of fire. Many windows were shattered by bullets. On George's quay similar damage was done. A time clock in McMullen's flour mills was smashed to pieces. There are also bullet marks on the wall of the Presentation Monastery. A military officer and a District Inspector of police called upon the Very Rev. Father Martin, Holy Trinity Church, yesterday, and expressed regret that the church or monastery should have suffered in the firing, remarking that firing on a church could not, or would not, be tolerated. In this case the church was in the line of fire. Father Martin stated to reporters that, with the entire community, he was startled by shots being fired in very close proximity to the monastery. It was an hour of terrifying moments, and he hoped it would never occur again, and that the people in the district, which is densely populated, would not be subjected to such an ordeal.

An official report states that at 1.30 a lorry patrol in Langford row was fired on. The fire was not returned. At 2.20 a lorry patrol was fired on from Parliament Bridge. Fire was opened on three men who were running away, but with what result is not known. An armoured car which had been sent to ascertain the cause of the shooting was fired on. A man was seen running away, and fire was opened on him. There were no military casualties.

THE CO. CORK AMBUSH.

SIX MEN ARRESTED.

Telegraphing last night, our Cork Correspondent states:—It was learned to-day that, following the attempt to ambush a party of military four miles from the City of Cork, yesterday, the farmhouse of Joseph Lynch was burned to the ground some hours later. It is reported that, in addition to one civilian being killed in the ambush, three others were wounded, and were subsequently arrested. Three other men who are not wounded have been arrested also. The military, who surprised the ambushers, had no casualties. The name of the dead civilian cannot be ascertained, as the body was removed by his friends.

SINN FEIN COURT BROKEN UP.

SEIZURES AND SEARCHES.

Our Claremorris Correspondent telegraphs:—On Monday night the military made an unexpected swoop on a Sinn Fein Court sitting in the Town Hall, Claremorris, and made prisoners of the entire assembly—magistrates, solicitors, and the public, numbering about 100. The officers seized the Court papers, and at the point of revolvers carried out an individual search, which occupied two hours, after which all were discharged from the courtroom. Documents found on some persons during the search were taken away by the military.

Before their release the magistrates, solicitors, and the public were warned against the holding of further sittings.

THE TURLOUGHMORE SHOOTING CASE.

MILITARY INQUIRY TO BE HELD.

Telegraphing last night, our Tuam Correspondent states:—An inquiry into the shooting of John O'Hanlon, at Turloughmore on Saturday night at his home will be held by the military authorities at Galway to-morrow. It is officially stated that an auxiliary party was searching the house, and that one of the guards called out "Halt" three times to the deceased man before firing. Another report states that one cry of "Halt" was heard before the shots were fired. As a party of young men were returning from O'Hanlon's funeral last evening riding on horseback they went through a veritable hail of bullets. When passing a lorry of armed men it is stated that fire was opened on them. The men lay over their horses' necks. Thomas Ryan received a bullet wound in the ear. His horse got two bullets, one in the neck and one in the hind leg. Another man's horse was also injured. The men state that they were between the fire from two lorries going in different directions at a cross-roads. Further on a horse under a load of turf was shot dead.

RAILWAYMEN SEARCHED.

Our Tuam Correspondent states that on Monday evening a military picket examined the incoming goods train from Sligo and also the outgoing Limerick train. The drivers, firemen, guards, and inspectors on the station premises were taken into the waiting-room and closely searched.

THE "CURFEW" ORDER IN ATHLONE.

The "Curfew" Order in Athlone, which up to the present had been in operation in the Connaught side of the town, was yesterday extended to the whole town. The Order is signed by General Lambert, and takes effect from today.

COMPENSATION AWARDS AT LIMERICK.

CLAIMS FOR £600,000.

The amount of compensation claimed at the Limerick Quarter Sessions, which were opened yesterday by Judge Pigot, is £600,000, and the number of claimants 200. The public bodies in the county were not represented. The following awards were made:—John O'Brien, a school teacher, £750, for the burning of a house which had been a police barrack up to 1918; District Inspector McGetterick, R.I.C., £280, for the loss of a motor car; the Inspector-General, R.I.C., £2,600 for the burning of Kilteely Police Barrack; Lord Clarina £1,600, for the burning of a barrack his property; Sergeant Tuohy, £550, for property burned in Ballylanders Barrack; Wilhelmina Gabbett, £2,700, for the burning of Castleconnell Barrack; Michael Harty, Dundalk, £1,450, for the shooting of his brother, Sergeant Patrick Harty, R.I.C., in Limerick in May last; and Bridget and Mary Ellen Dunphy, £1,440 for the shooting of their brother, Sergeant Kieran Dunphy, in Limerick, also in May last.

THE MILITARY AND THE MAILS.

BIG SEIZURE IN DUBLIN.

IRISH AND CROSS-CHANNEL LETTERS EXAMINED.

A party of soldiers, in charge of officers, arrived at the Rotunda Postal Sorting Office, Dublin, at half-past six o'clock yesterday morning, and seized the incoming mail bags. The buildings were guarded by armed soldiers while the bags were being transferred from the sorting room to motor vehicles. The letters which arrived by the Great Northern trains were not taken away.

A military party also took charge of the mail bags which arrived at Kingstown on board the Ulster yesterday morning, with the exception of those addressed to the Province of Ulster. The bags were placed in motor lorries and taken to Dublin.

On inquiry at the General Post Office last night, it was stated that nearly all the letters seized by the military were returned to the Sorting Office between four and six o'clock in the evening. A staff was retained to deal with them, and the letters were delivered in the city and suburbs about eight o'clock.

It was further stated that the letters did not appear to have been opened, and were not marked by the authorities in any way.

MILITARY SEARCHES IN DUBLIN.

A number of houses and business premises were visited by the military during the "Curfew" hours yesterday morning.

About half-past one, soldiers entered the United Irish League offices at 39 Sackville street, and made a thorough search. Where the doors and cupboards were found to be locked, force was used to open them and examine the contents. A quantity of correspondence and literature was seized and taken away. The officer in charge said that the owners would be compensated for the damage done.

The premises of the Irish Farm Produce Company, in Henry street, where Mrs. J. Wyse-Power resides, were searched in the early hours, and a number of documents were taken away by the military.

The residence of Mrs. Tom Clarke in Richmond avenue, Fairview, was also visited by the military, who took away some papers and empty cartridge cases. The house was closely guarded during the search.

KINGSTOWN BOARDING SCHOOL VISITED.

TWO MASTERS ARRESTED.

A military party visited St. Brendan's Boarding School, at Sallynoggin, Kingstown, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, and arrested two of the masters. St. Brendan's is a bi-lingual school for young children, and is at present occupied by 22 children of from 5 to 15 years of age. It is conducted by Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Stephens. In a lumber room the soldiers found two old swords and some sporting cartridges. Mr. Stephens, it is stated, was questioned about the cartridges, and replied that he had forgotten them, but said that his sporting gun had been given up, and he had informed the authorities of these things being in the house when an inventory was made. The military left, and, after calling at the local police station, returned in about half-an-hour, and arrested Mr. Stephens and also Mr. Kerr, an assistant master, who is said to be an Englishman. Mrs. Stephens stated that the military carried out the search with consideration and with little noise, and none of the children was frightened.

MILITARY ACTIVITY IN BELFAST.

A DOCTOR ARRESTED.

Our Belfast Correspondent telegraphed this morning:—The military in Belfast were very active during the night in raiding premises of suspected Sinn Feiners for arms and seditious literature. Various districts in the city were visited. Dr. Russell McNab, of 147 Donegall street, was arrested by soldiers and conveyed to the barracks, on what charge has not yet been disclosed. Dr. McNab was at one time a prominent man in Sinn Fein circles, but latterly has not been so much in the public eye.

SHOOTING OF POLICEMAN IN CORK.

FINDING OF MILITARY INQUIRY.

A Court of Inquiry, in lieu of an inquest, was held at the Military Hospital, Victoria Barracks, Cork, on Monday afternoon, to investigate and report on the circumstances surrounding the death of Constable Clarence Victor Shade, who died on 3rd October.

A police witness stated that late on Saturday night he was detailed, with three other constables, to proceed from Empress place R.I.C. Barracks on duty. When they arrived opposite "Blackthorn House" in Patrick street several shots were fired at them from the direction of Blackthorn House. The deceased man shouted "Oh," and fell, badly wounded in the left shoulder.

Another police constable corroborated. He swore that two windows at least were open in the Blackthorn House, and that shots were fired at them from those windows. He distinctly heard six shots. He went to the deceased man's assistance, and the other constable returned the fire to Blackthorn House. He ultimately took Shade to the Military Hospital, Victoria Barracks. He was in a state of collapse, and the witness remained with him until he died early on 3rd inst.

A military officer also gave evidence that he found three distinct trails of blood. Two of them led from the pavement directly opposite the Blackthorn House, and the third from where Shade was lying on the opposite side of the road to Blackthorn House. He also found two civilian caps directly opposite the same house, and where the two blood trails started.

A military doctor deposed that Shade was admitted to the Military Hospital about 1.30 a.m. on 3rd October, and died at 2.30. He was in a state of collapse when admitted, and had a large gunshot wound in the left shoulder, and was bleeding copiously. He received every medical attention. The immediate cause of death was shock and hemorrhage, resulting from a gunshot wound on the left shoulder, inflicted from half an hour to one hour before admission to hospital.

The Court of Inquiry found the cause of death in accordance with the medical evidence, and that the shot which caused the wound was fired by some person or persons unknown, and that such person or persons unknown were guilty of murder.

SOLDIERS DISARMED.

Our Banagher Correspondent writes:—As a party of ten soldiers were escorting the mails from Belmont Post Office to the military camp at Hunstanton, near Shannonharbour, they were "held up" about one mile outside the camp by armed civilians, who deprived them of their rifles and ammunition. The soldiers were taken completely by surprise. They were detained as prisoners while their rifles and letters were being carried away, and were then informed that they could return to camp. It is reported here that two persons were arrested yesterday in connection with the affair.

INCIDENTS IN THE PROVINCES.

Early yesterday morning the military again made searches in Carlow.

A process server at Killala, Newcastle West, was assaulted, but not seriously, and the processes in his possession were taken from him.

The watch-room and one house at Kinnogue, an evicted coastguard station, in the Moville district, were destroyed by fire on Monday.

There was only one case for hearing at the Roscommon fortnightly Petty Sessions yesterday, and it was adjourned for a fortnight.

There has been continuous raiding for some time past by the military and police for arms in all parts of the County Roscommon.

In Naas yesterday several houses were searched by a party of policemen. Young men who were found in some of the houses were also searched.

For some time past there have been no policemen on beat duty in Roscommon, and even at the pig and cattle fairs last week there was not a single policeman on duty.

The principal business at the Sligo Quarter Sessions, which were opened on Monday by Judge Wakely, comprised the hearing of malicious injury claims for the destruction of police barracks.

Police called recently at all the business houses in Carrick-on-Shannon, and obtained the names of the shop assistants and their last place of employment. The members of a touring dramatic company were questioned as to whether any seditious items were being staged.

For the third time the premises of Mr. P. Moylett, grocery and general wholesale and retail warehouse, at Williamsgate street, Galway, were entered during Curfew hours on Saturday night, and wrecked. A safe was burst open, apparently with some high explosive, which made a large hole in the ceiling overhead. It is alleged that a sum of over £150 was taken from it. Glass cases were broken.

DUBLIN PORT CRISIS.

TRAFFIC SERIOUSLY INTERRUPTED.

OVER 10,000 LIVE STOCK HELD UP.

4,000 MEN UNEMPLOYED.

Inquiries in Dublin yesterday tended to show that the situation created by the action of the seamen and firemen employed by the British and Irish Steam Packet Company, Ltd., who have ceased work in order to enforce demands for increased wages, threatens to have very serious developments during the week, and may lead to the total closing down of the Port of Dublin.

The cattle trade of the port was virtually paralysed yesterday, there being no less than 2,000 cattle and 10,000 sheep held up at the North Wall, as well as large quantities of merchandise, while consignments of live stock were still pouring unchecked into Dublin from the provinces, where the news of the deadlock had apparently not yet become known to the traders. There was no traffic of any description yesterday between Dublin and Liverpool. The condition of the live stock held up at the Liffey is a matter of grave concern, and may lead to very serious financial loss being incurred by the shippers. Should there be no improvement in the situation, the weekly cattle market in Dublin to-morrow will be gravely affected.

No meeting of the Irish Cattle Traders' Association, whose members are scattered throughout the country, can be held before to-morrow, and consequently no organised action can be taken in the meantime to deal with the situation. The Secretary of the Association yesterday described the congestion of the live stock traffic at the North Wall as "shocking," and pointed out that even under normal circumstances the vessels available for cattle shipments were inadequate, while the weather conditions were at present anything but favourable to the forwarding of large consignments.

FEELING AT THE PORT.

On inquiry at the offices of the shipping companies a grave view was taken as to the outlook, the only hope expressed being that, as the strike was unauthorised, the struggle would be a short one. In the meantime, the only outlets for the Irish cattle trade, so far as Leinster is concerned, will be Drogheda and Greenore.

THE LABOUR VIEW.

In Labour circles in Dublin yesterday a serious view was also taken of the situation. It was stated that, owing to a dispute with the Sailors' and Firemen's Union, all the principal shipping firms at the port had given a week's notice to their employés, and this notice will affect dockers, carters, checkers, and other port workers, in addition to members of the Sailors' and Firemen's Union. The total number of men likely to be involved is estimated by the Labour organisations at about 10,000. The notices were given on Saturday last, and, so far as the other branches of labour, apart from the Seamen's and Firemen's Union, are concerned, are regarded as being in the nature of lock-out notices. In so far as the strike is unofficial, and the seamen and firemen did not take action in sympathy with the men who have become unemployed as a result of the munitions trouble at the port, the strikers have not the sympathy or support of the North Wall workers.

Yesterday the Irish Transport and General Workers' Union, on behalf of their members, who will necessarily be involved should the trouble extend, were stated to have taken steps to approach the Dublin Shipping Association, with a view to asking them to abide by the arrangements providing for a month's notice on either side for the termination of employment, and that the workers were awaiting a decision on this point. On inquiry in well-informed quarters in connection with the Shipping Association last evening, our representative was informed that the agreement in question was open to anyone to see, and it stipulated that before any alteration in the terms of employment could take effect a month's notice should be given on either side, but it was urged that that did not mean that men in weekly employment were entitled to a month's notice to terminate their engagements. It is understood, however, that up to last evening no letter from the Irish Transport Union had come before any meeting of the Dublin Shipping Association.

With regard to the position of the British and Irish Steam Packet Company in connection with the dispute, it will be recalled that the company recently bought over the vessels of Tedcastle, McCormick and Co., the City of Dublin Company's Mersey steamers, and the Dublin and Manchester Company. The British and Irish Company is entirely distinct from any other company, and its directors are different, and include two prominent Dublin merchants.

On inquiry at the offices of the Seamen's and Firemen's Union, in Commons street, Dublin, yesterday, it was ascertained that the Secretary of the Union was away from the city, and would not be back until to-day. It is understood from other sources that the seamen trading to the Port of Dublin have acted off their own bat, and the national demand on behalf of the union will not become operative until next week. The sailings from the Port of Dublin last evening were paralysed as a result of the dispute.

The Laird Line steamer Olivo, on the Heysham service, did not sail last night. The Dublin General Steam Shipping Company's steamer Patricia was another vessel affected. The ss. Lady Chloe, of the British and Irish Company's fleet, arrived in Dublin from the Thames yesterday afternoon, and joined the "held-up" string of steamers berthed two abreast at the South Wall quays.

The vessels affected are all regular inward carriers of many varieties of foodstuffs, and a stoppage of these supplies would be a serious matter for Dublin and the provincial districts.

The Burns Line steamer Magpie sailed last night from Dublin to Glasgow, and, in the opposite direction, another of this line of steamers—the ss. Tiger—was expected to leave Glasgow last night, and arrive in the Liffey this morning.

Telephonic and telegraphic communications were sent out yesterday from the port and by steamer companies affected to exporters of goods and live-stock, warning these of the futility of sending consignments to the Liffey for shipment.

One of the smaller of the "held-up" steamers was stated to have got away yesterday morning, but as her crew were understood to have their homes across the Channel the working of the vessel over the Irish Sea would facilitate the men's own home-going, and the vessel might as well be "tied up" at the English as the Irish side of the Channel.

SAILINGS SUSPENDED IN WATERFORD.

Our Waterford Correspondent telegraphs:—The trouble between the sailors and seamen and the British and Irish Steam Packet Company has extended to Waterford. The crew of the Liverpool steamer Arklow, due to sail for Liverpool from Waterford to-day, handed notices to the company here. Unless a speedy settlement is arrived at the Arklow will not sail to-day, and a large number of dockers here will be thrown out of employment. The boats of the other companies are likely to follow suit.

DUBLIN BUILDING TRADE STRIKE.

OVER 3,000 MEN OUT.

Over three thousand men in the building trade in Dublin were out of employment yesterday in consequence of the strike which has been declared. The men affected include bricklayers, plasterers, marble polishers, and labourers. The members of several trades were still engaged at work yesterday, including the carpenters, plumbers, electricians, painters, and members of the Irish Engineering Union. No approach towards conciliation was made yesterday from either side. Owing to the inclemency of the weather, there was very little evidence of picketing in the city, while carpentry work was proceeding at several new buildings which are approaching completion. On behalf of the strikers it is being urged that their wages do not bear favourable comparison with those of cross-Channel workers similarly employed. The builders' labourers are chiefly concerned in the present dispute, and number more than two-thirds of the strikers. A number of men still remained working with firms who are not members of the Dublin Building Trades Employers' Association, and the question of the withdrawal of these men from work is still being considered by their unions. It is understood that picketing on a more extensive scale will be carried out to-day.

DUBLIN WORKERS LEAVE FOR ENGLAND.

Two parties of men connected with the building and allied trades in Dublin have crossed the Channel to employment in Great Britain. The contingents were stated to have been composed of bricklayers, carpenters, etc.

DISPUTE IN DUBLIN FERTILISERS' TRADE.

Some 1,000 men engaged in working for the Dublin Chemical Manure Manufacturers have put in a demand for increased wages, and a conference took place yesterday between the employers and representatives of the Irish Transport Workers' Union. An increased offer was made on behalf of the employers, and will be submitted for the consideration of a meeting of the men to-night.

The Council of Ambassadors has decided, says a Paris telegram, to send fifty Allied officers to Klagenfurt to supervise the plebiscite to decide whether certain parts of Carinthia are to become Jugo-Slav or to remain Austrian.

SPECIAL EXTRA.

PHILIPPINE SENATE AND TREASURY DOOMED.

The Philippine Senate, Treasury, and Mint buildings are a flaming furnace, says a Times telegram, dated Manila, Sunday, and are probably doomed, in spite of the splendid efforts of the Manila Motor and Launch Fire Brigades.

MESOPOTAMIA.

HOSTILE TRIBESMEN ACTIVE.

The War Office yesterday issued the following communiqué with reference to Mesopotamia:—

On the Lower Euphrates our posts at Nasiriyeh were attacked by a band of insurgents, who scattered before our machine-gun fire. A column organised at Ur, for the relief of Samawa, has commenced its advance on the latter town. It reached Tel Sakhairi, eight miles to the north-west of Ur, without encountering any opposition. The advanced railhead on the Ur-Samawa Railway is now at Batha, twenty-six miles from Samawa.

On the Middle Euphrates a hostile gathering south of Hindiyah barrage was dispersed by our artillery. In the Diyala area mounted tribesmen advancing on Abuhawa Station, five miles north-east of Bakuba, were fired on and driven off.

Elsewhere there is nothing to report.

POWERS AND MEXICO.

A GERMAN REPORT DENIED.

Reuter's Washington Correspondent writes:—Officials of the State Department deny the report published from Mexico City, to the effect that Great Britain, France, and the United States have entered into a treaty for the collection of $20,000,000 damages from Mexico on account of the revolutions, although they admit that there has been some correspondence between Great Britain, France, and the United States on the subject of the collection of compensation for damages suffered by their nationals in Mexico. The report that a treaty had been arranged is stated to have originated in Germany.

MR. LLOYD GEORGE AND BELGIUM.

A Paris telegram says:—Mr. Lloyd George and the Belgian Premier will meet at Brussels on Monday next. On this subject, the Matin recalls that M. Millerand and the Belgian Premier came to an agreement on the new plan regarding reparations. They formed the opinion that the Allies should come to an understanding that there was no need to call in the Germans. This was communicated to Mr. Lloyd George, who made no reply. The Matin says:—It is strange if the British Premier should only wish to confer on this subject with his Belgian colleague.

Reuter's Paris Correspondent says:—With reference to the coming meeting between M. Delacroix, Belgian Premier, and Mr. Lloyd George in London, it is learned from a trustworthy source that Mr. Lloyd George does not favour the proposals to allow the Germans to state their case through the Reparations Commission, and thus to substitute the new procedure for the Geneva Conference.

MINERS AND THE STRIKE.

WELSHMEN RETURN TO WORK.

The protest strike of the South Wales miners against the result of the negotiations on the national wage question ended yesterday, work being resumed at all pits which were idle on Monday.

The Leicestershire Miners' Council is recommending the men to vote against the datum line, and, if the majority be against, recommend that the matter be submitted to an impartial tribunal.

BRITISH WOMEN'S DEPUTATION TO IRELAND.

With a view to promoting a better understanding of what must be done to bring peace to Ireland, and in response to an invitation from the Irish section of the Women's International League, the British section of that organisation has sent a deputation to Ireland. They left yesterday. One party goes to Dublin, another to Cork, and a third to Belfast, and it is intended that independent inquiries shall be made in the areas about these towns. This move, which originated with the Manchester branch, is to be followed up by meetings all over Great Britain.

FUTURE OF THE MERCANTILE MARINE.

SIR JOSEPH MACLAY'S SUGGESTION.

Presiding at a dinner in London last night of the National Seamen's and Firemen's Union, Mr. Havelock Wilson, M.P., referred to the policy of meeting shipowners at such a gathering, and said that they had now reached the common-sense stage, where they could discuss differences, and probably settle them, instead of going on strike for a couple of months before they asked each other what the strike was about.

Sir Joseph Maclay, Shipping Controller, said that they would be interested to know that the Ministry had served its purpose. It was no longer necessary for the nation, and would cease to be. There was some reason to be anxious for the future of our mercantile marine, because, while we had lost enormous tonnage, other nations were creeping up. He thought that the Government should consider the appointment of a Parliamentary Secretary to watch the interests of shipping, and have a Committee associated with him. He would make that suggestion to the Government when he left office.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

According to a Hamburg telegram, the fire which occurred in the shipbuilding yards of Messrs. Bluhm and Voss there has destroyed the 55,000 ton steamer Bismarck, which was in course of construction, and was to have been surrendered to the Allies under the Versailles Treaty.

At the inquest on Ernest Douglas Strutt, in London yesterday, evidence was given that death was due to respiratory failure, owing to poisoning by cocaine. It was stated that Strutt went to London with the intention of joining the Royal Irish Constabulary. He collapsed in a Turkish bath. The inquiry was adjourned.

Mrs. J. M. Lane, of Roseburg, Oregon, on September 16th completed a forty-day fast, during which time she partook of no nourishment except a little orange and lemon juice. Mrs. Lane had been suffering from chronic stomach trouble for many years, and was advised to fast. She lost 25lbs. in weight in that time.

Another Dickens' landmark is doomed under a clearance scheme which is being carried out in Bermondsey, the house where Bill Sykes met his death, as described in "Oliver Twist." It stands in a court on Jacob's Island, and is being used now as a stable. The house was identified by the finding of some old plans of Bermondsey dated 1855, on one of which was marked "Bill Sikes's house."

The Crown Princess Margaret Memorial Fund, amounting to over £78,000, was handed to the Crown Prince of Sweden in the Storkyrkan on Monday. A solemn ceremony took place at the side of the Crown Princess's coffin, which was decorated with lillies. The Crown Prince, who was deeply moved, thanked the donors, and said that the fund would be used for charitable and social purposes.

A growing number of Irish property-owners are insuring in London against the risk of "riot or commotion." "The ordinary rates on business premises and private dwellings are 50s. per £100 for three months, 60s. for six months, and 80s. for a year, but it is very hard to get an insurance for twelve months, owing to the uncertainty of what may happen so far ahead," said a prominent member of Lloyd's.

The Minister of Munitions, consequent on the retirement on September 30th of Sir W. Graham Greene, Permanent Secretary of the Ministry of Munitions, has appointed Sir S. Dannreuther and Mr. D. Naylan to be joint secretaries of the Ministry. Sir S. Dannreuther will continue to carry out his duties as Accountant-General of the Ministry, and Mr. Naylan will retain his present functions as finance member of the Disposal Board.

An inquest was opened and adjourned at Marlow yesterday on Kate Lilian Bailey (22), whose body was discovered at Barn Cottage, Little Marlow, on Saturday, and in connection with whose death her husband is under remand. The evidence showed that the couple lived on affectionate terms. The woman's body was found by the police, wrapped in a sheet under a camp bedstead. The coroner said that the contents of the stomach were being analysed.

The Conference was resumed at Manchester yesterday between the employers and operatives, representatives regarding the question of introducing short time in the cotton trade. Saturday and Monday stoppage had been suggested, but the Conference failed to come to an agreement, and it was stated that the employers would act independently. It was announced later that the employers would take a ballot on a Saturday to Monday stoppage from October 23rd to November 15.

GERMANY'S FUEL PROBLEM.—II.

EXPERIMENTS WITH COAL.

LOW TEMPERATURE DISTILLATION.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

BERLIN, SEPTEMBER 29.

Economy in the use of raw materials is all very well up to a certain point; but, if the coal output was incapable of being increased, and mineral oil could no longer be imported, economy could yield but a restricted relief. The stock in any case dwindled, and the time for which it would have to last was quite uncertain. Either some new source of power had to be found or some different and more advantageous way of using the existing stocks had to be devised.

One of the chief uses of fuel, particularly in war time, is in automobiles. The transport of the future will consist, far more largely than hitherto, of automobile traffic, for the same service can be performed by automobiles for a large proportion of the goods carried as is rendered by the railways. The automobile possesses the great advantage of increased adaptability to fluctuating conditions, it does not necessitate such gigantic accumulations of capital to begin a new undertaking, and, as conditions change, the automobile routes may be altered without any great sacrifice of invested capital. Ireland is a country whose future development, on the return of more settled times, will be far more greatly influenced by motor traffic than by railway building.

The fuel problem for motor traffic was largely solved by the use of methylated spirit. The Kaiser had, in pre-war times, foreseen the possibility of this fuel, and used his personal influence to secure its adoption for automobiles. Spirit in Germany was formerly manufactured from potatoes, of which the pre-war supply was plentiful. The use of the potato for food in war time, however, withdrew the chief raw material for spirit-making. The constituent of the potato which is of importance in spirit-making is the cellulose—the main constituent of wood and, indeed, of all vegetable fibre. Cellulose is also the chief constituent used in paper-making. The question then arose whether it would not be possible to recover, from the waste residues of the paper mills, material from which spirit could be manufactured. Researches were made to this end, with highly satisfactory results as regarded the laboratory scale experiments. It was found possible to recover, at a very profitable rate, sufficient spirit to supply a large proportion of the automobile fuel required; and there was the incidental advantage that, instead of the passing of these residues into the rivers, and the consequent poisoning of fish—a valuable source of food—the noxious constituents were withdrawn. Before this could yield a practical solution of the problem, however, it was necessary that special manufacturing plants should be built to treat these residues. The erection of these plants could be carried out only on a limited scale during the war. Then the automobiles themselves had to be adapated to the consumption of the new fuel. This presented no serious difficulties except that, with pure spirit, the metal parts were found to corrode. Then it was discovered that a slight admixture of benzol removed the objection. Finally, the Government would have had to reduce the spirit excise so as to make the price economical.

This brief sketch suggests a new line of development in fuel production. It is one of the positive gains to German industry resulting from the war, and it is but one illustration of dozens which might be cited to show how artificial restrictions will evolve a future industrial life of quite peculiar characteristics. It is still, true, however, that mineral oil is not yet replaceable. We have based our whole technique upon the assumption that it is always to be had in any quantities. Our present machinery will not work without at least some of it, as hinted in the last illustration of corrosion caused by pure spirit.

The Germans are on the track of the new solution. Both in Great Britain and America, even before the war, the new methods were in use experimentally as well as in Germany, but Germany's absolute dependence upon these new methods has again been the compelling force to drive her technique ahead. Coal has, for decades, been in part burned as coal; in part it is distilled—that is, heated in large chambers, called retorts, till all its volatile constituents are driven off. One of the most familiar products distilled off is "coal gas," which is burned in the household for light and heat. Coal gas is a mixture of various gases, most of which result from the destruction of the highly valuable volatile products contained in the coal through the excessive temperature reached in the old processes. The residue left in the retort is known as coke, a familiar fuel, and the heavier distillation products condense as tar. Coal tar is that wonder-land from which the German chemist has produced the priceless treasures of tar dyes, saccharine, medicines, soap, and a variety of other marvels.

It has now been proved that coal can be distilled at a far lower temperature than heretofore, and that, from a given weight of coal, it is possible to obtain a far larger proportion of the valuable tarry distillates and less coal gas. In other words, if it is distilled at a lower temperature, fewer of the volatile constituents decompose under the effect of heat. The whole story reads like a fairy tale, but, if one just considers the origin of coal and the possible—but, it is true, uncertain—origin of the mineral oils, one sees a reason why, among the undestroyed volatile constituents of the coal, preserved by low temperature distillation, the mineral oils are found. Coal is the petrified remainder of former forests, the saps, resins, and oily juices of whose trunks are still present in a modified form in the coal.

It has even been proved in recent years that those chemical compounds found in, for example, conifers or fir trees living to-day are the identical compounds found in the coal formed from such primeval conifer forests, if allowance is made for the changes known to occur when such compounds of the living tree are subjected to the same conditions of temperature and pressure as are believed to have prevailed in the formation of the coal. The mineral oils are by some believed to be of animal, by others of vegetable, origin, while still others think that they have been synthesised from the carbon and hydrogen resulting in nature from certain subterranean decompositions. At any rate, the same conditions of temperature and pressure and, in all probability, the same starting materials were present. Thus the solution of a great part of the fuel and mineral oil difficulty of Germany is likely to depend upon a successful evolution of methods of low temperature distillation. Although both in Great Britain and America this principle is being developed with lively interest, there is nothing of that acceleration at work which is born of literal compulsion.

OBITUARY.

The death has occurred at Bath, where he had lately resided, of Mr. C. N. Williamson, the novelist.

Rev. G. C. Bruton, Vicar of Great Haywood, and Chairman of the Stafford Board of Guardians, died in the Birmingham General Hospital yesterday from heart failure, following an operation.

Early yesterday morning Mr. William Heinemann, the well-known London publisher, was found dead in bed at his residence in Lower Belgrave street. He had been unwell for some time, and death is believed to have been due to syncope.

RECENT BELFAST RIOTS.

INQUEST ON FALLS ROAD VICTIMS.

MILITARY EXONERATED BY THE JURY.

Dr. James Graham, City Coroner, held an inquest in the Old Recorder's Court, Belfast, yesterday, into the cause of death of the following five victims of the recent disturbances:—James Shiels (13½ years), 13 Milan street; William Tier (38 years), 23 Mill street, tailor; Robert Gordon (18 years), 80 Falls road, labourer; Thomas Barkley, 58 Roumania street; Frederic Blair (44 years), 69 Louisa street, tailor (disabled soldier).

Mr. J. R. Lipsett (instructed by Mr. J. R. Moorhead, Crown Solicitor) appeared for the authorities. Mr. James Reid (instructed by Mr. John Graham) appeared for the next-of-kin of Shiels and Blair, and Mr. E. J. McKean (instructed by Messrs. E. and L. Kennedy) for the next-of-kin of Tier and Gordon.

In opening the inquest, Mr. Lipsett said that they would first deal with the deaths of Tier, Gordon, Shiels, and Barkley. No one regretted more than the military authorities that lives should be lost, but, on hearing the evidence, he thought the jury would find that on the occasion of the loss of these lives something in the nature of a riot occurred in this district on the evening of the 28th September. From 8.30 onwards that evening until the arrival of the military, about ten o'clock, firing had been going on in the North Howard street and Falls road. When the military were arriving on the scene in a lorry they were fired on at Colin street, and, in consequence of that attack by a hostile crowd, the military returned the fire. It was not quite clear how these deaths occurred, but if the jury came to the conclusion that the fatal shots were fired by the military, he asked them to say that when a military lorry was attacked and shots fired at it, the military, in self-defence and for their own protection, were justified in returning the fire on a hostile crowd.

TRIBUTE TO DISTRICT INSPECTOR.

Patrick Shiels gave evidence of a district inspector of the R.I.C. calling at his house on the night of the 28th, and telling him that his son was shot, and in a house in Mary street. He last saw him alive about 8.30 o'clock that evening.

In answer to Mr. Reid, witness said his son was a most industrious boy. He worked as a window-cleaner during the day, and worked at repairing bicycles at night. The deceased was his principal support. Mr. Lewis, the officer who broke the news to him, was most sympathetic, and witness's own father could not have been kinder.

Mrs. Eliza Gordon, mother of Robert Gordon, gave evidence of last seeing him alive on the evening of the 28th, and advising him not to go in the direction of the Falls road. She next heard that he was shot, and she saw him in a house in Colin street.

William Tier, senior, identified the body of his son.

A soldier brother of Thomas Barkley asked for an adjournment in this case in order to enable the next-of-kin to instruct a solicitor and prepare their case. They had only been notified an hour ago of the inquest.

Mr. Lipsett said they would take Barkley's case last, and the brother could instruct a solicitor in the meantime, if he so desired.

Medical evidence was given by Dr. M'Caughan, of the Mater Hospital.

SHOTS AT MILITARY PATROL.

Corporal Edwards, of the Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, who was the non-commissioned officer in charge of the motor lorry patrol in the Falls road district, said shots were fired at the lorry when they were passing a street corner, and the military returned the fire.

In the case of Shiels a youth named Joseph Donnelly, of 3 Milan street, stated that he and Shiels and a boy named Reilly were standing at the corner of Colin street. When the military lorry was returning they opened fire from the corner of North Howard street. The three of them were standing peaceably at the corner at the time. Shiels did not take part in any riotous mob.

The Coroner—No one suggests that he did.

Another witness, Joseph Lackey, said that the military lorry was the first to fire.

James Gordon, a brother of Robert Gordon, examined by Mr. M'Kean, stated that on this night he went to meet his brother, and saw firing from the military lorry. The light at the corner of North Howard street was not out. He stated positively that the first shots came from the lorry.

Next day in the hospital his brother told him that when the firing commenced he ran round North Howard street into the lavatory, and stayed there until the firing ceased. When he was going out a soldier advanced and never spoke, but shot him. There was no challenge shouted, said the witness, before the firing.

Cross-examined, witness denied that there had been any firing in that district from 8.30 that night.

Joseph Rice said he did not see or hear any firing until the shots came from the lorry. Witness ran to the urinal for safety. A man leaving the lavatory shouted that he was shot. Witness did not hear the military giving any warning.

District Inspector Atteridge, who was then called by Mr. Lipsett, stated that this lorry was sent out as a special patrol in consequence of a report that the lights in North Howard street had been extinguished.

Mr. Reid, Mr. M'Kean, and Mr. Lipsett addressed the Court.

VERDICT OF THE JURY.

The jury found the deaths were due to gunshot wounds received during the riots, adding that the military were justified in firing on the crowd.

In the case of Fred. Blair, shot during civilian shooting in the Marrowbone district, the jury found he died from wounds received during the riots. Blair was innocent of any part in the disturbance.

In all five cases the jury strongly recommended the bereaved relatives to the consideration of the Government.

APPEAL FOR PRAYER FOR IRELAND.

The following appeal for prayer concerning Ireland has been issued:—

"The state of affairs in Ireland to-day is of such a nature that every right-minded man or woman who realises it must desire to join in any honest effort made to bring back peace, and regain the mutual understanding between the two peoples that was obtained in 1914. The trouble deepens as the weeks roll on. Nothing has been done by man's wisdom so far to improve the situation effectually. Surely the time has come for a great united effort of prayer to Almighty God for help, on the part of all Christian Churches and Fellowships in Great Britain and Ireland. With the utmost humility, therefore, we venture to appeal to all our fellow-citizens in the Christian community to join in such an effort of prayer for the restoration of good-will and mutual confidence by the realisation of Christ in the hearts of us all.

"As for the central basis of our prayer we have His own instructions: it is the coming of the Kingdom through the doing of His will. As regards particulars, we propose to pray continually for such righteous action as will lead to the abatement of ill-feeling and distrust, and to growth of respect and affection between us. Above all, we need to pray that God should bring us all to the realisation of His thoughts concerning us—a thought that, since each nation consists of a host of individuals, cannot be realised without our co-operation in respect of willingness to do His will. And as to the nature of His will for us one fact is clear. His will makes for a solution based upon good-will among men. Only on such a foundation can the Kingdom of God be set up.

"In the name of Christ our Lord we appeal, therefore, to all Christian people and to the Christian Churches, each in its own way—in accordance with its own sacred traditions—to join in the League of Prayer for the speedy realisation of God's purpose concerning the future relations between the peoples of these islands, and the settlement of all such differences and misunderstandings as now divide them.

"And may the peace of God which passeth all understanding keep our hearts and minds in the knowledge and love of God and of His Son, Jesus Christ our Lord."

The appeal is signed by the following bishops:

The Bishops of Chichester, Oxford, Peterborough, Winchester, Wakefield, Cork, Derby, Kensington, Killaloe, Limerick, Meath, Ossory, and Stepney. Dr. Pakenham Walsh (Bishop in Assam), Dr. C. H. Brent (Bishop of Western New York).

Other signatures include the following:—

Sir George Adam Smith (Principal, Aberdeen University); Principal Alexander Martin, Moderator of the United Free Church of Scotland; the Dean of Worcester, Bishop Gore, A. Cuthbert (Carrickfergus), Canon Hayes (Co. Down), Rev. J. H. Jowett, D.D. (Westminster Chapel); Rev. A. H. McNeile, D.D. (Dublin University); J. J. MacNeice (Carrickfergus), Dr. Sophie Bryant, Professor Carpenter (Dublin), Lady Frederick Cavendish, Charles Eason, J.P. (Dublin); Charles E. Jacob, J.P. (Dublin); W. F. Trench, Litt.D. (Dublin).

In a later communication it is added:—

"Since this appeal was drawn up we notice that one similar in aim and tenor has been issued by the Archbishop of Canterbury. We hope that our appeal, designed to secure the co-operation of all Christian people, may be taken as reinforcing strongly his Grace's words, and indicating the feeling of urgency on the question prevailing throughout the country. Owing to pressure of time, it has been impossible to send this appeal to many who are undoubtedly in sympathy with it. All such are invited to send their names for addition to Dr. Sophie Bryant, 6 Eldon road, London, N.W.3.

OLD WATCHES WANTED.
ODGE and CO., 36 Nassau St., DUBLIN (Next Rivery's, one door from Dawson street). We are in urgent need of Old Gold or Silver Watches in any condition, and will pay exceptionally high prices for them.

THE LISBURN RIOTS.

URBAN COUNCIL AND RESIDENT MAGISTRATE'S STRICTURES.

At the sitting of Lisburn Urban District Council on Monday evening, Dr. George St. George, Chairman, said that he availed himself of that, the first, opportunity of protesting, in the strongest possible manner, in the name of Lisburn, against the remarks made by Mr. George M'Elroy, R.M., when presiding at Lisburn Petty Sessions.

Dr. St. George, proceeding, said that Mr. M'Elroy's remarks were entirely unfair and unjustified, and were rightly resented by the respectable inhabitants of the town. It was up to him, as Chairman of the Council, to correct the erroneous impression created by the Resident Magistrate, who, instead of lecturing the people of the town, would have been infinitely better employed as a magistrate had he come to Lisburn during the riots and done what he could to stop the disturbances. (Hear, hear.) They all knew what happened in Lisburn on Sunday, 23rd August. District Inspector Swanzy was foully and brutally murdered on the street in front of many townspeople returning from church. For a time the police had no chief officer in town—not even Head Constable Goold, who had been sent on temporary duty to another part of Ireland. He did not think that there were more than six or seven policemen in the town altogether, and they were simply powerless to prevent or check the wrecking and burnings that were commenced in the afternoon, and in broad daylight, as reprisals for the murder of the gallant inspector. He need not attempt to describe the destruction that went on during the night. On the following morning he called a special meeting of the Council to grapple with the state of affairs that obtained. He called the meeting for the evening, so that Labour members and all could attend. When the meetings were in progress, Mr. Robert Griffith, J.P., a member of the Council, and a number of clergymen came over from the Parochial Hall, where they had had a meeting, and joined the Council in their deliberations, which were held in committee. He (Dr. St. George) strongly advocated the bringing in of more police and military, but the deputation declared that course would only lead to bloodshed, and that by far the better thing to do would be to go out in a body and personally persuade the people back to a normal frame of mind. Eventually the latter course was adopted, and the councillors and clergy went out to reason with the rioters. He and several others spoke at different points, but their efforts proved hopeless. The magistrates had done nothing up to that. The Chairman asserted that if the magistrates had acted with promptitude on Monday a great deal of damage would have been prevented.

MR. SINCLAIR AND THE MILITARY.

Mr. Thomas Sinclair, J.P., said that as a member of the Council he would like to say that not a solitary person in Lisburn suffered loss who blamed the Chairman of the Urban Council for lack of energy or want of duty on his part, but to show that there were other members of the Council who had the interests of the town at heart he would like to read them a letter he had addressed to General Sir W. Hacket Pain. This was the letter:—

"Rosslyn, Lisburn, 24th August, 1920.—Sir,—As a citizen of Lisburn, an ex-Chairman of the Urban Council, and a magistrate for the district, I beg to protest in the strongest manner against the totally inadequate military protection afforded the citizens during the past two days. The fact that a foul and cold-blooded murder had been committed was no justification whatever for the action of the authorities in handing over the control of the town to the mob. Although the military authorities had knowledge of what had happened on Sunday, and was likely to be continued on Monday, only a mere handful of soldiers was drafted into the town. Beyond acting as a sort of guard of honour at the chapel and convent, the military allowed the looting and burning to go on unrestrained, and took no action to clear the streets or disperse the mob. As I have reason to believe that further violence is intended, I request that a larger and more adequate body of military be at once drafted into the town, and that the Curfew Order be put in force, so that law-abiding citizens may be afforded the protection to which they are entitled.—Yours faithfully, Thomas Sinclair."

Proceeding, Mr. Sinclair said that Mr. Edward Donaghy, J.P., who was a member of the Council, had waited in person twice on General Hacket Pain, and implored him to send military.

Mr. Skillen said that the remarks made by the Chairman were quite true and to the point. Proceeding, he said that, as they were all aware, Mr. Sinclair had some time ago written to the Lord Lieutenant protesting against the raiding of Sinn Fein houses in Lisburn. In face of that he thought Mr. Sinclair would have come to that meeting of the Urban Council with cleaner hands if he had remained on the spot and assisted his brother-magistrates and his colleagues on the Council in their efforts to preserve order, and stop the firing and looting that went on.

Mr. Sinclair protested against the dragging in of what occurred a year ago when there were no Sinn Feiners in the town.

Chairman—There were, and they were working in harmony with those in the South and West.

Mr. Sinclair—I say there were no disturbances and no Sinn Feiners in this town.

The Chairman (warmly)—Until the Sinn Feiners started them.

Mr. Sinclair—Until the military raids came. I do not stand for Sinn Fein. I would not touch Sinn Fein with a 40-foot pole.

Mr. McNally moved:—

Mr. McNally moved—"That we, the members of the Lisburn Urban District Council condemn in the strongest possible way the apathetic manner in which the magistrates acted in the crisis through which we have passed, whereby such serious destruction to property was wrought."

Mr. Brown seconded. He said that he thought the Council should go even further, and send a petition to the Lord Lieutenant to remove the local magistrates from the bench. All they were good for was saying "2s. 6d. and costs."

Mr. Griffith, as a magistrate, said that he personally did all he could to assist in preserving order during the riots, and other magistrates had done the same. Protestants and Roman Catholics had lived amicably together in Lisburn, and there never would have been the slightest disturbances but for the brutal murder in Cork of Colonel Smyth. He opposed the resolution.

The Chairman—I am speaking of the magistrates as a whole.

Mr. Griffith—Other magistrates were there as well, and urged the bringing in of military and extra police.

The motion was then put and carried by seven votes to two, Messrs. Sinclair and Griffith voting against.

THE PRESBYTERY OF DUBLIN.

The stated meeting of the Presbytery of Dublin was held yesterday at 85 Grafton street, Dublin, the Moderator (Rev. J. J. Macaulay) presiding. There were also present:—Revs. James Wilson, Dr. Johnston, F. S. Gardiner, Dr. Osborne, J. L. Morrow, H. P. Glenn, A. Gailey, James Wilson (Birr), Dr. Parke, John Brennan, W. S. Montgomery, J. Humphreys, J. A. Rogers Boyd, James Snowdon, J. T. Fleming, W. Smyth, R. K. Hanna, H. G. McMullan, Gordon Clements (Clerk), F. C. Gibson, J. S. Crockett, J. H. Black, and W. S. Kirkpatrick, with Messrs. Gray, Adams, McFarlane, Paul, Craig, Cunningham, Campbell, elders.

It was unanimously resolved that the Presbytery of Dublin congratulate Dr. Gregg, Bishop of Ossory, on his appointment as Archbishop of Dublin, extend to him a hearty welcome, and pray that God will abundantly bless his work.

The Rev. J. L. Morrow, Convener of Committee on Students, reported that Mr. Francis Olphert Best and Mr. Edward Ward, students of Trinity College, Dublin, submitted themselves for examination. Revs. Gardiner and Snowdon examined Mr. Best, and Dr. Johnston and the Moderator examined Mr. Ward, and both examinations were sustained by the Presbytery.

The Rev. Samuel Prenter (Canada), son of the late Rev. Dr. Prenter, of Dublin, was asked to sit and deliberate. Later credentials from the Presbytery of Quebec were submitted, and Mr. Prenter's application to be accepted as a minister under the care of the General Assembly was considered, and strongly recommended.

Mr. Charles Eason submitted the report of the Assembly Committee on ministerial incomes, which was earnestly discussed, new steps to be taken were agreed upon, and a conference with the Standing Commission of the Presbytery was fixed for Tuesday, 19th, at 7 p.m., in 85 Grafton street.

It was decided to visit Donore congregation in December, 1920, and Clontarf in February, 1921.

The Rev. J. L. Morrow, who had been nominated by the Presbytery and the Assembly's Government Committee for appointment as a Commissioner of National Education, requested that his name should be withdrawn, and that the Presbytery should intimate this to the Assembly's Government Committee, and this was agreed to.

The Rev. Dr. Osborne made a statement as to the difficult and dangerous position which will be created during the coming winter owing to the closing of institutions for the sick and poor. It was decided to refer the matter to the Standing Commission of the Presbytery.

Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovich, brother to the late Tsar, who abdicated in his favour, is alive and safe, according to the Figaro (Paris). He has been the guest of his friend, Vajiravudh, King of Siam, at Bankok, since his escape from prison at Perm.

ROSSE COLLEGE, STEPHEN'S GREEN. Successes at recent examinations:—Pitman's Shorthand, July, 1920 (50 to 120 words a minute), 59 certificates; Society of Arts, May, 1920 (Book-keeping and Typewriting), Stage II., 26 certificates; Stage I., 14 certificates.—(Advt.)

TYRONE ELECTION.

VOTES DISALLOWED.

EVIDENCE OF ALLEGED PERSONATION.

Mr. Commissioner Phelps continued the hearing of the Tyrone election petition in Omagh yesterday morning. At the opening of the proceedings he gave his decision on the cases heard the previous day as follows:—In the case of Jane Fox, he disallowed the vote; Mary Ann Brown, vote disallowed; James McElhill, vote disallowed; Minnie Maynes, vote disallowed; Bridget McMenamin, vote allowed; Elizabeth M'Laughlin, vote allowed; Margaret Brown, vote allowed. In the case of Francis Rodgers, he deferred his decision, and said that he might have to summon further evidence before he finally decided it.

The case of Michael M'Gale, Culmore, alleged to have died before the election, which had been adjourned overnight, was then taken up, and Mr. Babington again demanded the production of the official register to show that a person voted in M'Gale's name.

Mr. Lynch immediately challenged the appointment of the returning officer.

Mr. Muldoon concurred, and addressed the Court.

The Commissioner held that Colonel Irvine was properly appointed when vice-chairman, and further that there was no irregularity which affected the election. He accordingly directed the returning officer to produce the documents required as proper evidence.

The marked register was afterwards produced, and it was found that the name of Michael M'Gale, Culmore, was marked off as having voted.

The petitioner objected to the vote given in the name of Michael M'Ivor, Gortmore, Omagh, in respect of whom a death certificate was submitted.

John J. Marshall said that he knew the late Michael M'Ivor, who lived in Gortmore. There was no other man of the name in Gortmore that he knew of. Michael M'Ivor, who was between 70 and 80 years of age, was dead, and he believed he died in Leglands.

Frank Hannan said that he was in the West Ward booth when a young man, aged about 24 years, voted in the name of Michael M'Ivor. Witness had him sworn.

The vote given in the name of Mary Ann Noble, River row, was next challenged.

Frank Hannan swore that a woman came into the West Ward booth and voted in the name of Mary Ann Noble. She was about 50 years of age. Witness did not know her then, but as the woman left the booth he followed her downstairs and made inquiries about her identity.

Thomas Hamilton swore that the woman pointed out to him by Frank Hannan was Mrs. Moran, Church street.

A death certificate was produced in the case of Mary Quinn, Strathroy, who was alleged to have been personated.

William Duncan swore that he knew the deceased, who was the only woman of the name in Strathroy.

The presiding officer's marked register disclosed that a vote had been recorded in the name of Mary Quinn.

The further hearing was adjourned.

ABSTENTION FROM FOOD.

CAUSES OF ENDURANCE.

The Medical Press and Circular of October 6th has the following:—

At the present time the most diverse views are current, even amongst medical men, as to the length of time that the human subject can survive starvation. The facile insinuation that survival after a month must necessarily mean that food is being taken is due not only to a natural impulse to attribute baseness to an opponent, but to ignorance. Voluntary starvation was not long since a kind of profession, and to this we owe much of our knowledge of the subject. Certain of these professional fasters have gone without food for periods varying from 30 to 50 days, taking only a little water to relieve thirst. None of them apparently suffered any permanent ill effect from their abstinence. On the contrary, some of them declared that their health was improved, and one, Tanner, lived to be ninety-one. The professional faster, however, took the precaution of feeding himself abundantly prior to the period of starvation, and sometimes he took narcotics to tide over the ordeal of the first few days, which by common consent are the most difficult. And then the professional knows that he is in no danger of death. The mental attitude is an immense factor in the resistance offered by the individual. A fixed idea, whether it be some high motive or the delusion of insanity, may greatly increase the period of survival. Devillers quotes a case who remained 76 days without food. Others have died after 12 days. An energetic and determined will, whether it be sane or insane, is the strongest weapon man can oppose to inanition. Ill-health or any waste of energy will, of course, precipitate the end. Richet believes that the sudden fall of temperature which occurs in advanced starvation is the sign that the nervous system (which with the heart is the last tissue utilised by the organism in its efforts at self-sustenance) has finally been drawn upon. While the adipose tissues lose 97 per cent. and the liver 50 per cent. of their weight, the heart and nervous system only lose 3 per cent. Cetti, however, continued his fast after suffering this critical fall of temperature and recovered completely.

ABBEY THEATRE.

"THE SERF."

The author of "The Serf" is to be congratulated upon his courage in presenting in dramatic form a subject so controversial as the clerical management of schools. He has treated it fearlessly, and with a measure of skill which one would hardly expect from a novice—if Stephen Morgan really is a novice. With very slender material he has fashioned a play that is certain to cause much discussion. When one thinks of the storm created not so long ago over a harmless incident in "The Playboy," one wonders why the rafters of the Abbey Theatre were not raised last evening by an indignant audience at the sight of a parish priest, manager of the Coolglash National School, being flouted by a serf in the person of a clever young teacher. Perhaps it was because Drennan, the teacher, is a type known to the people unlike the gentleman who killed his "da." "The Serf" certainly reveals in its worst form the prevailing system of school management. Its treatment is, indeed, so aggressive as to convince the audience that the author must belong to the vast army of aggrieved teachers. The scales are set dead against the manager, and the opinion is formed from the start, and is verified later, that the play has been written more from the propagandist than the dramatic point of view. If the author were really concerned as a dramatist he would allow Drennan to leave the village without securing another billet, whereas he obtains for him another post by the intervention of the bishop, and thereby spoils what should have been an effective curtain. But one cannot honestly quarrel with Mr. Morgan, though he is occasionally faulty in his craftsmanship. His bold treatment of the theme is sufficient commendation. In Father Harold and Charles Drennan he has created two sturdy characters that stand out distinctly in village life, whether it be that of Coolglash or elsewhere in the map of Ireland. A teacher incurring the disfavour of a clergyman over a trifling fault—in this instance the drafting of a farewell address to a progressive curate—is not uncommon, and Drennan is not an unfamiliar type with his independent spirit and strength of will, nor, indeed, is Father Harold's type unknown, though the author has depicted it in its blackest colours.

Taken as a whole, the play is a decided acquisition to the Abbey repertoire, and is well worth seeing. It was admirably played last evening to a crowded audience. The cast was effectively placed, and little room was left for adverse criticism. The part of Father Harold was capably taken by Mr. F. J. McCormick, a resourceful artist, who, if he erred at all, erred by making the character too hard. One naturally looked for, but failed to find a soft spot in the heart of this Irish priest—probably another instance of the author's fixed views. Mr. Michael Dolan gave a striking study of the teacher, though it seemed to lack robustness. As his wife, Miss Maureen Delany was quite good, and made the most of the part. Two picturesque characters were those entrusted to Miss Agnese O'Higgins, a promising débutante, and Mr. Barry Fitzgerald. Other artists who figured with distinction were Miss May Craig and Messrs. Eric Gorman, J. A. Hand, and Peter Nolan. The play was received with marked favour. The author did not respond to insistent calls for his appearance at the close.

"The Coiner" was also played successfully, and the enjoyment of the evening was crowned by some capital selections from the orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Larchet.

DESTRUCTIVE FLOODS IN IN SCOTLAND.

The storm of wind and rain during the last few days has caused considerable damage in the Aberdeen district. The Rivers Dee and Don are in flood, and the countryside for miles has been laid waste. The lower reaches of the Dee present a scene of desolation, ricks of hay, sheaves of corn, fencing, trees, poultry, and flotsam of all descriptions being swept along, and borne out to sea. The Garthree bleach factory of Messrs. Richards, Ltd., was inundated yesterday morning, and the damage is estimated at a thousand pounds.

Further up the river a number of Shetland ponies were carried away and drowned. One whole farm was submerged and the crops ruined. Wild seas off Aberdeen Harbour carried away two drifters, which later were washed ashore, one being smashed to pieces. The whole of the beach from the Dee to the Don is strewn with agricultural débris, washed down by the rivers.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

AN IRISH SETTLEMENT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

Sir,—Lord Robert Cecil, in his recent letter to a constituent, declares in favour of self-government for Ireland; but at the same time he seems to approve of the continued imprisonment of the Lord Mayor of Cork. All sensible men in Ireland are anxious for peace, but all recognise that no peace terms are likely to receive dispassionate consideration in the present political atmosphere. To bring about a better state of feeling Irishmen of all parties (including holders of offices of dignity under the Crown) have joined in eager appeal for the release of the Lord Mayor and his fellow-prisoners. They recognise that, if an Irish settlement is desired, this is surely the first and an essential step. Does not Lord Robert see this?—Yours, etc.,

Henry J. Walker.

Athlone, October 5th, 1920.

THE STATE OF DUBLIN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

Sir,—In confirmation of your article of to-day's issue, may I mention two undoubted, but significant, facts which have been brought under my notice, and which I have found to be absolutely authentic? They show that the troubles and trials of life in this distracted city are being added to unnecessarily, and that the worries and perils of the citizens are being too inconsiderately increased. In what hitherto was a usually quiet and respectable street, for the last few days the residents have been annoyed by the presence and attention of two adult male lunatics, who squat on the door-steps of the houses every day and partake of their meals there. Actually on Saturday evening last they selected the steps of one house for their night's repose and slept there all night. Again, on Monday night a crowd of young persons of various ages were seen to be chasing a rather over-grown youth through the streets, who ran away crying and roaring in dread of them. On inquiry I learnt that the hunt is a frequent occurrence of late, and that the unfortunate is an enlarged lunatic who was being so cruelly ill-treated.

These two incidents refer only to one small part of the city. I can ask your readers to imagine how those troubles and inconveniences will increase and spread as time goes on, until they become positive perils. Can nothing be done?—Yours, etc.,

"A Citizen."

Dublin, October 5th, 1920.

THE IRISH LANGUAGE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

Sir,—At yesterday's meeting of the Dublin Corporation the Lord Mayor is reported as having said:—"They now found that the language of this country was going to be trampled upon by their officials." On behalf of the officials of the Corporation we must protest against this sweeping statement of the Lord Mayor. The majority of the officials of the Corporation have a working knowledge of Irish, and the efforts of many of them in the language movement are well known.

It is only just to the two officials concerned in yesterday's proceedings to point out that the resolution to which the Lord Mayor referred had been passed by Council notwithstanding the Corporation Law Adviser's opinion that the resolution, as it stood, was out of order.—Yours, etc.,

Patrick O'Byrne, General Secretary, Local Government Officials' (Ireland) Trade Union.

4 Upper Ormond quay, Dublin, October 5th, 1920.

DUBLIN AND DISTRICT.

FUNERAL OF DISTRICT INSPECTOR BRADY.—Mr. J. Mallagh, Engineer-in-Chief of the Dublin Port and Docks Board, was prevented by illness from attending the funeral of the late District Inspector Brady on Monday.

SCENE AT A PICTURE HOUSE.—In the Northern Police Court, yesterday, before Mr. Lupton, Peter Fitzsimons, Blessington place, employed as a doorman at the Lyceum Picture House, Mary street, was returned for trial on a charge of having attempted to prevent the business being carried on by shouting outside the premises—"Strike on here." The defendant, it appeared, had been dismissed from his employment.

PRESENTATION TO MR. ROBERT TOAL.—On severing his connection with the firm of Messrs. Hayes, Conyngham, and Robinson, Grafton street, Dublin, Mr. Robert Toal was on Saturday presented with a wallet of notes by the staff. Mr. W. U. Smith, director, in making the presentation, said that it was but a slight token of the esteem in which Mr. Toal was held by the firm. Mr. Toal suitably replied.

YOUTHS CHARGED WITH BURGLARY.—Three youths, Laurence Clarke, Turney avenue, Kilmainham; William Dempsey, Kilmainham, and John Haslam, Gurnett road, Inchicore, were returned for trial yesterday by Mr. Swifte in the Southern Police Court on charges, to which they pleaded guilty, of breaking into the White Heather Laundry and stealing clothes to the value of £20, and also of stealing tobacco and cigarettes from the premises of Miss Murphy, tobacconist, South Circular road.

HEAVY RAIN AT THE PORT.—Yesterday's persistent downpour had the effect of interfering considerably with the work of casual dockers engaged in unloading vessels of freight at the port, whilst carting operations were also hampered through the same cause. The quays were flooded with surface water, and this was liberally squirted over pedestrians and the front of quayside premises by motor lorries and other mechanically propelled vehicles travelling up and down the North and South Walls.

ALLEGED ASSAULT IN TRAMCAR.—Patrick Blackburne was charged on remand, yesterday, before Mr. Swifte, in the Southern Police Court, with assaulting Patrick Connolly, tram inspector, at Belgrave road. There was a cross charge of assault against the inspector. Both charges were now withdrawn. Mr. Swifte expressed the view that the company had no right to remove a passenger on refusing to pay the fare, but that a passenger could be removed for using obscene language. The charges were struck out.

DUBLIN SHOPKEEPERS AND RETAIL BUTTER PRICES.—At a meeting of the Retail Purveyors', Family Grocers' and Off-Licensed Holders' Association, held at 3 Bargh quay, Dublin, on Monday evening, it was decided to fix a general retail price for best creamery butter, based upon cost. The following resolution was unanimously adopted:—"That in view of the failure of the Food Control Section (Department of Agriculture) to regulate the cost price of creamery butter to retailers, all members of the trade are requested to charge 3/6 per lb. it being impossible to procure creamery butter to sell at the suggested price, 3/4."

SCENE AT R.I.C. DEPOT.—In the Northern Police Court, yesterday, Mr. Lupton made an order committing to the Richmond Asylum Joseph H. Bailey, a recruit, who arrived at the Royal Irish Constabulary Depôt, Phœnix Park, on Saturday last from London. The defendant appeared in court with his shirt and hands covered with blood. Evidence was given showing that the defendant, who was under detention, escaped from the Depôt, and was found in Marlborough Barracks, but was brought back to the Depôt, where he was put in the guardroom. He seized a rifle and tried to bayonet the sergeant of the guard, but the rifle was wrenched from him by Constable Seymour and Sergeant Fitzgerald. It was stated that defendant was twenty-six years of age, and served in the Royal Engineers during the war, and was wounded. Dr. Garland certified him to be a dangerous lunatic.

DUBLIN COMPOSITOR'S RETIREMENT.—A special meeting of the Dublin University Press Companionship was held on Friday evening (Mr. W. Waller, Father, presiding), for the purpose of presenting a small momento to one of their members—Mr. William Delany—on his retirement from the printing profession. Mr. Delany has a membership of sixty years in the Dublin Typographical Society, and is also a member of the Dublin Typographical Benevolent Fund. He has been connected with the University Press for nearly 40 years. Members of the Chapel having spoken in high terms of Mr. Delany's many sterling qualities, Mr. Delany said that the generosity of the members came to him as a surprise. Although he was passing away from a place where he spent the best years of his life, he would console himself with happy recollections of the time they had spent together.

INSANE MAN IN CHURCH.—In the Northern Police Court, before Mr. Lupton, K.C., yesterday, James Connolly, described as a clerk, of De Courcey square, Glasnevin, who, it appeared, had only been discharged from the Richmond District Asylum six weeks ago, was charged with having forced his way into the pulpit of the Franciscan Capuchin Church, Church street, the previous evening, to address the congregation assembled for the evening devotions. Evidence was given by one of the community to the effect that the accused came to the monastery and asked, amongst other things, for the use of the pulpit to expound some doctrines. Seeing his condition, witness endeavoured to keep him out. The accused, however, resisted, and another member of the community, trying to appease him, said, "Yes," when the accused asked for the use of one of the pulpits. Mr. Lupton—This was during the time of the service? Witness—Between 7 and 8 o'clock. He went into the pulpit and addressed the congregation. Accused—Where is the clergyman who gave me leave to say the "Our Father" in the pulpit? Mr. Lupton said that the doctor certified that the prisoner was insane, and he committed him to Richmond Asylum.

ALLEGED LARCENY.—In the Northern Police Court, before Mr. Lupton, K.C., yesterday, Joseph O'Connor of Upper Gloucester street, Dublin, was charged by Detective Officers Murphy and O'Neill with the larceny of £40 from Michael Prendergast, a cattle dealer, at the Clarence Hotel, the previous night. Mr. Prendergast stated that he put the money, which was in notes, under the pillow in his bedroom, and he missed it in the morning. Miss Callaghan, bookkeeper, deposed that the prisoner booked a room the previous evening, giving "Chicago" as his address. He returned later in the night, and she saw him near No. 46, Mr. Prendergast's room, where he had no right to be. Evidence was given by the night porter of the hotel that he saw the prisoner coming down the stairs in a nervous state after Mr. Prendergast made the complaint. He said that he was going on the boat train, and could have no breakfast. Detective Officer Murphy proved arresting the prisoner at Westland row station in company with Detective Officer O'Neill. The prisoner admitted he stayed in the Clarence Hotel, and that his address was Naas, Co. Kildare, but said he was going to Canada. When charged he said he lived at Upper Gloucester street, and had nothing to say. Over £3 10/- was found in his possession. The prisoner was remanded for a week.

With the word "Sanctuary" on his lips, a Roman Catholic priest stopped a mob of 5,000 at the door of his church in Chicago as they were pursuing three negroes who had murdered a white man and run for refuge into the sacred building.

EDINBURGH FIRM'S GIFT TO THE TREASURY.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer has received a letter from the head of an Edinburgh firm, who said:—"I recognise the great need the country has for money, and while I am strongly opposed to a capital tax, I am willing to do what I can for my country out of income. My company has £100,000 invested in War Stock, and I am willing that all interest on this sum should be cancelled for the next five years. This would give the Treasury £25,000. It may be that I shall be able to continue this offer for a further period of five years. Possibly you may be able to use this offer to induce other companies and firms to do likewise." The writer concluded by asking that neither his name nor the name of his company should be made public.

In his acknowledgment, the Chancellor said:—"On behalf of His Majesty's Government, I beg to tender you our grateful thanks for your generous action, and our warm appreciation of your patriotic offer, which I have great pleasure in accepting. I should like to make a public announcement of your gift, and subject to the omission of your name and that of your company, should you offer no objection, I propose to publish through the Press your letter and my reply.

Is Wolsey worth its Price?

It ought to be, so long as it is made the way it is, sold the way it is, and is what it is.

MADE the way it is ...

The manufacturers of Wolsey spin their own yarn, produce the garments, finish them, trim, pack, label, and distribute. They are the only Underwear makers in this country who do.

SOLD the way it is ...

Wolsey goes straight from the actual makers to the shop that serves you; one firm alone is responsible; all unnecessary costs of carriage, handling and so forth are eliminated, which means, of course, utmost value for you.

IS what it is ...

Wolsey is the best the world produces, and the man who flatters himself that he will get best wool, best make, best finish, best comfort, best health protection, best service at the price of the less-than-best, or at a less price than the price of Wolsey, flatters himself.

Wolsey

'The Best the World Produces'

There are Wolsey garments for men, women and children, and every trade-marked garment is sold on the express understanding that, should it shrink in wash or wear, it will be replaced free of cost. Special sizes will gladly be made to order. If you have any difficulty in obtaining, write the manufacturers, who will put you in touch with the nearest retailer.

THE AMERICAN MARKETS.

STOCKS CLOSED IRREGULAR.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

NEW YORK, Tuesday.

Stocks opened firm. Specialities advanced 1 to 6 points on covering and buying for the long current account. Steels, Oils, Tobaccos, Shippings, Coppers, Equipments, General Utilities, and Motors were all freely taken. Investment and low-priced railroads were mostly higher, but there were one or two exceptions. Steels were bought under reports that no immediate reduction in steel prices was contemplated. United States War Bonds advanced 25 to 100 points. The market, however, reacted in spots on realising, and closed irregular.

SUGAR—Spot weak; futures firm, 50 to 35 points higher. December, 7.90; January, 7.80; March, 7.65; May, 7.85.

COTTON opened firm and unchanged to 32 points up, owing to firm cables, buying by foreign houses and the trade, and the improved Wall street conditions; then eased under favourable weather reports and Southern selling. Another advance on spot houses buying, Wall street support, and notices being promptly stopped was checked by New England mills curtailment and disappointing Manchester advices. The market closed steady, with current month 40 up and following months 20 down to 32 points higher. Spot quiet and unchanged. New Orleans spot declined 25 points. Receipts—Atlantic, 5,000; Gulf, 43,000. Exports—Britain, nil; Continent, 12,000. BELFAST SHIPBUILDING.

There was a considerable decrease in the output of new tonnage from the yards in Belfast for the nine months ended 30th ult. compared with the previous year, and indeed compared with most years. September was a blank month for launches, and in fact the output of the past quarter has been unusually light, consisting of three steamers of moderate tonnage. In the current month, however, it is expected that five vessels will be launched. In the nine months ten steamers and four barges for the carrying of oil in bulk were launched by the Belfast builders with a total tonnage of 80,500 tons, whereas in the nine months ended 30th September, 1919, eighteen steamers were launched with a total tonnage of 125,834 tons. Messrs. Harland and Wolff this year have launched nine vessels (including the oil barges) with a tonnage of 53,000 tons, whereas in the same period of 1919 they had nine launches aggregating 64,510 tons.

Last year Messrs. Workman, Clark and Co. launched nine steamers, aggregating 61,324 tons, whereas this year they have only five steamers, with a tonnage of 27,500 tons, but two further vessels will be in the water within the next few days. Last year's work consisted mainly of standard ships of moderate tonnage, which were run up more quickly than the class of vessel which now occupies many of the berths, and which occupies most of a year from the laying of the keel plate to the launch. Several of these large passenger liners are rapidly approaching the launching stage, beginning with the 16,000 tons triple screw steamer Pittsburgh, which will probably be sent afloat next month from the Queen's Island. The reconditioning programme has been an important factor in the reduction of new tonnage this year, vessels like the Olympic and Regina requiring the attention of an enormous number of men who would otherwise have been employed on new construction. There is no question of an immediate slump in the Belfast yards, a large amount of tonnage being still on order, particularly at the Queen's Island, which is in an almost unique position in the shipbuilding world.

DUBLIN STOCK EXCHANGE.

GUINNESS, "WICKLOW," RAILS, AND MARCONIS BETTER. DUNLOPS DULL.

The exceedingly wet weather added to the delay in delivering all letters further militated against business on 'Change yesterday, and more than half the regular markets were quite idle or without orders. There was no special feature disclosed in the limited dealing effected, and irregular price movements were the rule. The firmness of the market in Guinness, Marconi, and "Wicklow" Ord. were points of interest. The Funds marked time. Banks were idle and a bit irregular. Guinness alone quoted in Breweries, and closed in demand. Marconi shares added a little to the latest price. Among Home Rails dealing in odd or small lots formed the bulk of any small business done. "Wicklow" Ord. strengthened, but Midland Great Western issues were offered, and the 4½ p.c. Debs. show a heavy slump. Dunlop Rubber Ord. did not quote, but closed about 28s. 9d., 29s., and the "New" were nominally about 1s. 3d. discount. Tobacco and Oil markets were supported generally.

The Funds were unaltered. War Loan 5 p.c. repeated 85¼, and Funding Loan 67½.

In Banks, Nationals rose 1/16 to 15¼, but Hibernians fell ⅛ to 4⅞.

In Breweries, Guinness Ord. rallied ½ to 31⅞, and the Pref. closed ⅛ better at 9¼-½ nominally.

Among Marconi issues, the Ord. rose 9d. to 57s. 6d.

There were small transactions in Home Rails. Dublin and South-Eastern rose 1½ to 16, but Great Southern fell 1 to 44, Midland Great Western ¼ to 19¼, and the 4½ p.c. Debs. no less than 8½ to 46. Great Northern Debs. were ½ better at 60½, but the Ord. closed without recovery at 50.

In Trams, Dublin United Pref. at 7¾ shows no change, and in Drapery Shares, Arnott Pref. fell 3d. to 58s. 9d.

As regards Manufacturing Shares, Cottons repeated 37s. 6d., but Lever Bros. 7 p.c. Pref. fell 3d. to 18s. 6d.

Trading and Miscellaneous Shares were all neglected, but in other business done, Imperial Tobacco rose 6d. to 51s. 6d. Mexican Eagle Oil were busy at 12½-⅝, and Shells fell 1/16 to 7⅞. Brooks, Thomas "Letters" eased 3d. to 16s. for a few shares.

CHEERFUL STOCKS.

BUSINESS SMALLER.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

The Stock Exchange wore a cheerful appearance yesterday, though in some directions business appeared to be on a rather smaller basis than on the previous day. Gilt-edged stocks were firm, on the re-investment of dividend money. Considerable support was again accorded Russian issues in the Foreign Bond market, and the buying of Home Rails was resumed, but no doubt the best section was that of South African Gold Shares on purchases by speculators in anticipation of enlarged profits for last month owing to the high price now ruling for the metal, though, in consequence of liquidation on Paris account, quotations did not finish quite at the best. Among Foreign Rails, Central Uruguay improved to 61½ on the dividend for the year to June 30th last being made up to 7 p.c., or 1 p.c. more than was distributed in respect of 1918-19. Several Russian Bonds appreciated considerably on the latest news with regard to the alleged breaking up of the Soviet, and Mexican Argentine and some Japanese issues also advanced; but Chinese, Uruguay, and Portuguese Bonds were all lower.

On the Stock Exchange yesterday a fair amount of business was recorded, and the tone as a whole was steady. The rather less satisfactory outlook regarding a settlement of the coal trouble had very little effect. Features of importance were few, and dealers were inclined to adopt a cautious attitude, and showed little disposition to enter into heavy commitments either for a fall or a rise. Esperanzas continued to be a very active market. They fluctuated between the extremes of 2 1/16 to 2 5/16, closing at 2 3/16. El Oros, after being dropped to 16s., finished at 17s. 3d. Mexico Mines of El Oro attained 7, and Ouro Preto issues received fresh support. Santa Gertrudis, however, were heavy at 21s. 6d. Oil Shares were also inclined to activity, and many deals were

LONDON STOCKS MORE ACTIVE.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

On the Stock Exchange yesterday a fair amount of business was recorded, and the tone as a whole was steady. The rather less satisfactory outlook regarding a settlement of the coal trouble had very little effect. Features of [illegible] were few, and dealers were inclined to adopt a cautious attitude, and showed little disposition to enter into heavy commitments either for a fall or a rise. Esperanzas continued to be a very active market. They fluctuated between the extremes of 2⅛ to 2⅜, closing at 2⅛. El Oros, after being dropped to 16s., finished at 17s. 3d. Mexico Mines of El Oro attained 7, and Ouro Preto issues received fresh support. Santa Gertrudis, however, were heavy at 21s. 6d. Oil Shares were also inclined to activity, and many deals were made at prices usually tending upwards. In the Funding Loan this upward tendency continued, and the price at 68¼ showed another small advance.

FOREIGN BONDS STEADY.—The rise in Cuban Ports to 30 on Monday was followed by another advance yesterday, the price being quoted 33½. Support was given to Argentine Fours, and the Rescissions rose to 57, and the Old Fours to 54½. Mexicans also hardened, the Fives to 61, and the Irrigations to 59; while there was an inquiry for Russian Government and Municipal Bonds, and a general advance of 1 to 2 was recorded, the Fives being up to 24. They were difficult to buy. Japanese 4½ p.c. were firm at 108; while French Fives remain at 49½, and the Fours at 39.

Changes.—Rises: Mexican 5 p.c., 3 to 61; Russian Fives, 1 to 24. Falls: Uruguay 3½ p.c., 1 to 65. Brazil 4 p.c., 1 to 43 x.d.

HOME RAILS FIRM.—The improvement in Home Rails was more than maintained, and a further rise occurred. North-Easterns at 79, Great Western at 77½, Midland at 51½, and North-Western at 78½, were all unchanged.

CANADIAN AND FOREIGN RAILS.—Canadian Pacific had a sharp rise to 183, but Grand Trunks were practically unchanged. Dulness characterised Argentine Rails, with the weakness of Pacifics somewhat pronounced. The price has gone back to 54½, a fall of 2 points in the past few days. "B.A.G.S." and Westerns were weak at 71½, and Centrals no better than 62½. Havanas were weak at 80. Leopoldinas gave way to 34, and San Paulo fell to 132. Mexican Rails were neglected, and repeated former quotations.

IDLENESS IN INDUSTRIALS AND TONE STILL DULL.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

Yesterday was a very idle day in the Miscellaneous and Industrial Market. Country exchanges also appeared to be suffering from lack of initiative, brokers generally reporting that they could not find enough to do. Prices in the London Market for Industrial Securities were, however, well maintained. Transactions were, in fact, so limited as to prevent any real test being applied to more than half of the shares usually dealt in. The general sentiment was one of cheerful resignation to the outcome of the protracted coal strike negotiations. There was nothing in the Iron and Steel Section to signify interest, either public or professional. Prices were scarcely tested by business, and markings were remarkably few. Vickers were unchanged at 22s. 9d., but Armstrongs were offered, closing 24s. B.S.A. shed 6d. at 21s., but Sheffield Steel Products hardened up to 15s. United Steel eased to 17s. 6d. Coal Stocks were scarcely mentioned, and quotations remained unaltered. Several trusts and financial stocks declined. Guardian Def. were 79 and Bankers Def. 74, each showing a loss of a point. American Investment Def. were also reduced to 100, ex-div. Among Banks, National of India eased to 47, ex-div., but Lloyds hardened to 44s. A slightly renewed demand for Gordon Hotel Shares had the effect of advancing the quotations from 5¼ to 5⅜, but elsewhere in the Hotel Section prices were unchanged. City of London Ord. were good again in the Brewery Section, rising a further two points to 172. Van Den Berghs were firm, closing 2⅛, ex-div.; but among Stores, Whiteleys eased to 24s., ex-div. Harrods B.A. hardened 19s. 10½d. Pan De Azucar Nitrate fell ¼ to 15¼, but in the Land Section Sudan Plantation hardened up to 5⅛, and in the Telegraph List Direct United States stiffened ⅛ to 5¼. Conditions in the Shipping Section were hardly distinguishable from stagnation. Prices showed scarcely a movement, though Cairn Lines were firmer at 23s. 6d., ex-div. Insurances were idle, with no net change to record. Among Industrial leaders, Courtaulds were well maintained, closing unchanged on balance at 7⅛, but Listers eased to 26s. 6d. Otherwise there was practically no business in Textiles. Dunlops, after dipping to 28s., finished up unchanged on the day at 28s. 6d. The new issue, partly paid, were easier at 11s. 6d. offered. Among Motors, Harper Bean were better at 4s., and Austin issues brightened on the official circular regarding the success of the financial negotiations, whereby the company has obtained the money it wanted without the necessity of making a new issue to the public. Austin 10 p.c. Pref. Ord. were raised to 7s. and the Ord. to 6s. 6d. The "B" Pref. also benefited, hardening to 8s. 9d. Dennis Bros. were still 28s. 3d. Centrifugal Separators were not so good at the figure, but Magadi Sodas were harder at 17s. 6d. on continued speculation interest. A substratum of support was to be observed for Tobacco issues, notably, Imperials and B.A.T., which at 51s. and 3⅜ respectively were well maintained at the overnight level. Exceptionally, United eased 1/16 to 4¼ ex-div. De Trey eased 1/16 to 1⅛. Cements at 27s. were unaltered, but British Portland shed 6d. at 31s. Hartlepool Paper were firm at 23s. 6d., and Olives at 18s. 9d. Anglo-British Col. Packing New Ord. were maintained at 22s. 9d., and Oilcakes showed no change at 42s. 9d.; but African and Eastern were not so good at 3⅜.

MINING SHARES BETTER.

PICKING UP "KAFFIRS."

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

Public attention is again being directed to Mining Shares. Speculators have had their appetites whetted by the lively fluctuations in Esperanzas, and for this and other reasons are beginning to pick up Kaffirs. In fact, if anything the Kaffir market carried off the honours yesterday, not so far as size of the advance is concerned, as for the number of gains. When a market is lifeless the public will have nothing to do with it; give them something that is really alive and they are not averse from trying their luck. Cablegrams notifying profits at South African mines for last month will be pouring in during the next few days, and, as they are expected to make a good exhibit, the dealing fraternity is making suitable preparations. A glance down the list shows a general rise. This must not be attributed, however, to activity, so much as to sentiment, for, while dealings again increased in volume, it was to nothing like the extent that the gains might be taken to indicate. However, dealers hope shortly to wrest the leadership from the Mexican market.

OIL SHARE MARKET LOWER.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

Active interest in the Oil Share market yesterday was directed rather to a few specialities than to the leading counters; in fact, the older favourites had a quiet appearance throughout the day, and generally closed dull. Paris was a seller of Mexican Eagles, and, although no appreciable fall occurred in the price of the shares, owing to the readiness with which they were absorbed on this side, they were looking none too bright at the end. Shells became decidedly heavy in the late dealings, there being evidences of sales in order to buy Mexican Eagles, the immediate outlook for the latter being regarded as distinctly promising. Royal Dutch moved down, and Burmahs also gave way. The outstanding feature of the day was the strength and activity of Trinidad Central Shares, in which a big business was transacted at advancing prices. Other Trinidad issues were firm, Trinidad Leaseholds meeting with a fair amount of support, but finishing without alteration, while United British registered a small improvement. Another strong spot was provided by Anglo-Egyptian B Shares, which, for no apparent reason, were in keen demand, and enjoyed a sharp spurt. Kern Rivers again fluctuated rather widely, but at the close showed only a trifling shrinkage. Roumanian descriptions were steady. According to advices from Bukharest, a Government regulation just issued makes provision for the free export of petroleum and petroleum by-products, subject to a duty equivalent to 20 p.c. of the ruling market price for the time being. The Roumanian Government, however, reserves the right to purchase from all exporters 20 p.c. of the petroleum by-products available for export. Closing prices:—

RUBBER SHARES DULL.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

The price of rubber was ⅛d. lower at 1s. 5⅛d. per lb., and a dull tone prevailed in the share market. Such price changes as occurred were nearly all in the downward direction, but for the most part quotations showed no alteration as compared with Monday night. Anglo-Dutch were a shade harder at 44s. 3d., but Anglo-Malay weakened to 33s. 9d. Bukit Rajah were lower at 28s. 3d., and Malayalam eased to 30s. middle. Tamiang lost ⅛, with sellers at 40s., and Tandjong showed a further decline at 50s. Amongst foreigners Merlimau eased to 5s. 4½d., but there was some demand for Selangor United between 3s. 5d. and 3s. 6d. Waverley were a trifle harder at 3s.

THE MONEY MARKET.

LOAN AND BILL RATES EASY.

Bank Rate (changed April 15th) .... 7 p.c.

Supplies of floating credit yesterday were increased by dividends upon Consols, India and other Government Securities, and in the open market monetary conditions were quite comfortable. The Bank was repaid without any trouble, and daily loans, except in the case of 5½ p.c. for renewals, were done at anything from 5 down to 4 p.c. The discount market was no firmer, and the banks were reported to have occasionally bought November bills at 5⅞ p.c. The brokers' rate for December paper was generally 6 p.c.

The price of gold has further given way 2d. to 117s. 10d. per oz. fine. The bulk of the available supplies went for India, but a little was taken for America. Bar silver ⅝d. lower for spot at 57⅛d. per oz., and ⅛d. down for forward delivery at 57⅛d. per oz.

The foreign exchanges were quieter, and fluctuations were not particularly heavy. Italy provided the feature, the rate losing another lira to the £ on balance. New York was just fractionally more favourable to this country, and Paris cheque, after touching 52.15, finished with little net change. Belgian francs depreciated. The three Scandinavian centres were quoting rather more for bills on London. China exchanges were lower.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

ROBINSON AND CLEAVER, BELFAST AND LONDON.—As compared with the previous year, the gross profits of Robinson and Cleaver for the twelve months to July 31 last declined £12,060 to £78,437, which is, however, £22,009 in excess of the 1917-1918 figures. The net profit comes out at £57,934, in contrast with £74,653, and £45,656 was brought in, which is £26,653 more than was brought forward from 1917-18, so that the available balance of £103,590 compares with £94,656 a year ago. It is proposed to raise the Ordinary dividend from 4 per cent. to 5 per cent., free of tax, to again add £30,000 to the reserve fund and £2,000 to staff benevolent fund, leaving £52,090 to be carried forward. The reserve fund now amounts to £140,000, and there are general investments of £58,433 at cost.

WALLACE BROTHERS, LIMITED.—The report for the year ending 30th June states that the profits, after payment of all management charges, managing directors' remuneration, directors' fees, etc., writing off £3,000 for depreciation, and providing for all other charges for the year, amounted to £5,402 8/7, to which has to be added the balance brought forward from last account, £5,231 1/2, making a total of £10,633 9/9, out of which the directors propose to add to general reserve £2,000, leaving a balance of £8,633 9/9. Interim dividends have been paid on the Preference Shares and on the Ordinary Shares at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum for the half-year ended the 31st December, 1919, amounting to £1,500, leaving now available £7,133 9/9. The directors recommend that a dividend of 3/- per share (less income tax) be paid to the Preference shareholders, making, with the interim dividend already paid, 6 per cent. for the year; that the Ordinary shareholders be paid a dividend of 3/- per share (less income tax) in addition to the interim dividend already paid, with a bonus of 2/- per share (less income tax), making a total distribution of 8 per cent. for year, and that the balance be carried forward to next account. Mr. H. E. Wallace retires in rotation from the Board, and, being eligible, offers himself for re-election. The auditors, Messrs. Stokes Brothers and Pim, also retire, and offer themselves for re-election.

SUNGEI SALAK RUBBER.—Interim dividend of 5 per cent.

UNITED ENGINEERS.—Dividend at the rate of 30 per cent. for the year.

PARSONS' MARINE STEAM TURBINE.—Dividend of 25 per cent.

RUBBER SECURITIES.—Dividend of 5 per cent., less tax.

BELLOWS MAGNETO CO.—Interim dividend (half-yearly) at 25 per cent. per annum, less tax, on Ord.

A. M. PEEBLES AND SON.—Dividend of 5 per cent. and bonus of 5 per cent. (10 per cent. in all) on Ord. Shares.

BANK OF SCOTLAND.—Dividend for half-year ending August 31 at the rate of 16 per cent. per annum, less income tax.

OOREGUM GOLD.—Pref. dividend of 1s. per share; an interim dividend of 9d. per share on both Pref. and Ord., all less tax.

NATIONAL AND FOREIGN SECURITIES TRUST.—Further dividend of 4½ per cent., free of tax, for the year.

KAMUNING PERAK RUBBER AND TIN.—Dividend of 12½ per cent., subject to excess profits duty (if any), corporation tax, bonus to staff, etc.

VIRGINIA CAROLINA CHEMICAL.—100th consecutive quarterly dividend of 2 per cent. on the Pref. Stock, and a dividend of 1 per cent. on the Common Stock of this company.

CENTRAL URUGUAY RAILWAY.—Balance dividend of 5 per cent., less tax, making 7 per cent., less tax, on the Ord. Stock for the year ended 30th September, 1920.

CENTRAL URUGUAY (EASTERN EXTENSION) RAILWAY.—Balance dividend of 12s. per share, less tax, on the Ord. Share capital, making, with the interim dividend paid in April last, 18s. per share for the year ended 30th June, 1920, equal to 9 per cent.

CENTRAL URUGUAY (NORTHERN EXTENSION) RAILWAY.—Balance dividend of 10s. per share, less tax, on the share capital of the company, making, with the interim dividend paid in April last, 16s. per share for the year ended 30th June, 1920, equal to 8 per cent.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

The revival in Russian Mining and, to some extent, in Russian Oil Shares, is due simply to the hope that, as soon as trade relations are established, these companies should be able to take full advantage of their being on the spot. Russo-Asiatics were unsaleable the other day at 9/-, and have now risen to 15/6. Several of the oil companies are also improving, though more slowly. Buyers evidently consider that the outlook for re-institution of trade between Russia and this country is brightening, and, in consequence of this, that it is worth while making speculative purchases of these Russian shares. As speculations they must certainly be regarded, for obviously it must be a long time before the companies will be able to start dividend payments. Where some of them can have scored is in buying goods in Russia and sending them to London for sale, although even for this branch of commerce there can have been little scope.

The amalgamation of two British firms so well known and so long established as E. Wolff and Son and Arthur Johnson, Ltd., is an event of some significance to all who are watching the progress of British industry in these critical times. Both firms have been established for over a hundred years, and both specialise in the manufacture of British pencils. They will now trade as the Royal Sovereign Pencil Co., Ltd., and the combination should undoubtedly prove a powerful one, resulting in effectively supplying the bulk of the demand for British-made pencils in this country.

Among the few Mexican securities still obtainable at a low price are the National Railways of Mexico 4½ per cent. Prior Lien 1926 Bonds. These are secured by a mortgage on about 1,284 miles of lines and on certain securities. No interest has been paid since January, 1914, so that accrued interest amounts to about 30 per cent. The bonds are officially quoted 40-45; in 1919 they never fell below 39½, and at one time reached 62½. The fact that the bonds are due to be redeemed within a few years (1926) at par in gold makes them stand out above the other Mexican Railroad issues, as it is being realised that, whatever happens, these bonds will have to be dealt with and either paid off, renewed, or another security given in their stead on the date they fall due.

From cable advices received from Johannesburg, it is hoped that, in the event of liquidation, there may be a distribution of 8/- to 10/- per share for Knight's Deep shareholders. It should be noted this estimate is dependent on various factors, as to which no reliable information is as yet available.

A report upon the alluvial gold areas held by the Dome Mining Corporation on the Orbigo River, Northern Spain, made by Messrs. C. G. Lush and Son, consulting engineers, has been issued to the shareholders. The report deals principally with the values disclosed on the Josephine, Santa Catalina, and Victoria Concessions, and shows the details of the numerous boreholes put down, which involved a large expenditure of money, and occupied about two years. Messrs. Lush and Son report that the boring discloses gold of a gross value of £865,000, with gold at £4 per ounce, and of £1,080,000 at £5 per oz. At the Eureka—a silver gold quality mine—the directors, in order to open up the reef at depth, are calling for tenders to sink a main shaft. Large slabs of lode material found on the surface have assayed from one to seven ounces of gold. Owing to the magnitude of the workings and the exceptionally high assay values, the directors believe the Eureka mine to be of great value.

An attempt to restore confidence in Austin Motors is being made by the directors of the company, who have sent out a circular to all shareholders signed by the chairman and managing director. Enclosed with the circular are copies of certificates of valuation and audit made last month. These indicate a net balance of assets over liabilities of £4,804,000, while profits for the year ended December 30th, 1919, are shown at £238,000. To this is added a further surplus of £79,000 arising from a clearing up of amounts outstanding in Government contracts completed before the end of 1919. The auditors' report also states that a satisfactory profit was earned during the two months of June and July, when the estimate of output made in April, 1920, was practically attained. In the circular the chairman expresses the hope that the confidence of shareholders will not be affected by the present state of the share market.

It is announced that the transfer books of the Pref. Shares of De Keyser's Royal Hotel, Ltd., in liquidation, will be closed on and after the 6th inst. for the purpose of enabling a return of 20s. in the £ to be paid to the shareholders whose names appear on the register on that day.

AUSTRALIAN WOOL SALES.

The wool sales at Sydney have been largely attended, but competition was indifferent, and inferior kinds were difficult of sale. The bulk of the offerings, 2,549 bales, were sold. Good clips were scarce. The highest price obtained for scoured Merino was 50d., greasy 34d., and cross-bred greasy 17½d.

PENDING ISSUE.

VAUXHALL MOTOR NOTES.

Vauxhall Motors, Ltd., are about to make an issue at par of £300,000 in 10 per cent. short-term Notes, repayable at 105 per cent. on October 1st, 1925. The Notes will be in denominations of £10, £25, £50, and £100, and the company reserves the right to redeem them at any time on six months' notice being given, at a like premium of 5 per cent. In the certified statement appearing in the prospectus it will be shown that assets exceed liabilities by £964,129, and, with the estimated proceeds of the new issue, the net assets of the company will cover the notes more than four times over. Average profits for the past six years are shown at approximately 20 per cent., and for the first nine months of the present year the profits are estimated at £100,000, while for the whole year it is expected they will be sufficient to cover the interest on the notes more than four times over.

MARKET REPORTS.

GRAIN.—DUBLIN CORN EXCHANGE, Tuesday.—Supplies of new grain are still only dribbling in, and leave matters somewhat uncertain. Wheat, of course, nominally is put down at 53/4 maximum milling value, but many growers express much dissatisfaction with this level of rates, and seem to be determined on getting more, through what channels is rather obscure; still 1/- or 2/- more has already been paid for pet samples of, say, 30 barrels to 50 barrels. Barley is yet unquotable, and there is somewhat of an uncertainty surrounding values of oats; new blacks of best run may be written at 28/- to 31/3, and whites 31/6 to 33/6 per barrel. Old oats still appear to have an uncertain basis of actual values, but holders of best lots remain firm at about recent prices in retail transactions.

I BUY OATS.—A. H. Smith, 10 Burgh quay, Dublin.—(Advt.)

NEW SACKS.—You are offered New Goods at the keenest prices consistent with quality. Write for quotations to-day.—J. W. and D. Martin, Ltd., 21 City quay, Dublin, and North street, Cork.—(Advt.)

FLOATING GRAIN CARGOES.—BALTIC, Tuesday.—WHEAT—Allocations at official prices. MAIZE dull and easier; cargoes of Plate expected finishing loading sellers 68/-, September-October 67/-, October-November 66/-, Gal.Foxanian 15th November 69/-. Parcels easier but irregular; Plate September-October sold 63/6 to 62/-, October-November 62/-, 61/-, 61/3, No. 2 mixed American October-November sellers 69/6, No. 3 ditto 69/-, December-January 65/- per 480 lbs. BARLEY dull; No. 4 Canada Western October-November 63/-, November-December 62/6, Canada feed October-November 61/-, American feed ditto 59/- per 400 lbs. OATS easier; Plate f.a.q. September-October sellers 48/6, October-November and November-December 48/-, No. 2 Canada Western October-November 52/-, November-December 51/6 per 320 lbs.

LIVERPOOL, Tuesday.—C.i.f. parcels of WHEAT were moderately active. No. 1 red winter afloat sold at 94/, No. 2 ditto and No. 2 mixed at 93/- per qr. to Liverpool, and No. 1 red and No. 2 hard to Manchester at 94/- per qr. MAIZE—Parcels River Plate, under the influence of weakness in America and the Argentine, with increased estimate of the American maize crop, gave way about 2/6 per qr., but later recovered about 1/3 of the decline under a natural reaction and short covering. September-October sold at 61/9, 61/6, and up to 62/3, and October-November 61/6, 60/-, and up to 61/- per qr.; American mixed October offered at 68/6, and December-January 65/- per qr. Wheat on the spot was quiet but steady at late rates. Maize—Spot parcels River Plate were decidedly lower at 16/2 to 16/4 per cental. FLOUR met a moderate demand at official prices, with imported still scarce. BEANS, PEAS, and OATMEAL quietly steady and unaltered. OATS ruled somewhat irregular in value. MILL OFFALS steady, but not specially active. LINSEED and COTTONSEED CAKES steadily held. Yellow River Plate maize futures, after giving way 5¼ to 6 p.c. under the same influences as c.i.f. parcels, partially recovered, and closed steady at 4 to 5¼ p.c. under last night. Sales—30 loads at 14/8, 14/6, 14/7 for October delivery, 13/7 November, and 13/5, 13/3½, 13/5 per cental for December. Closing value—October 14/6½, November 13/8, December 13/5 per cental. American mixed maize options were not traded in, but closed nominally 4½ lower for November at 15/2 per cental.

NEWCASTLE, Tuesday.—Good demand. English wheat, 95/-; foreign, 92/- to 100/-; barley, 95/- to 100/-; secondary, 85/- to 95/-; grinding, 80/-; commoner grades, 78/-; new oats, 77/6; foreign, 60/-; maize, 77/-; beans, 95/- to 100/- per ton; maize, 77/-; beans, 95/- to 100/- per quarter; flour, 63/6 per sack.

CATTLE.—BIRMINGHAM, Tuesday.—Supply of pigs to-day was small, and, although trade was quieter, prices kept very firm, particularly for bacons and smalls. Quotations, per score, dead weight:—Bacons, 42/-; sows, 34/-, and small pigs, 40/- to 42/-.

SALFORD, Tuesday.—Smaller supply of fat cattle of good quality. Trade rather slow, but prices higher, bullocks and heifers realising 85/- to 95/- and cows 74/- to 90/- per live cwt. Fewer sheep and lambs were penned and trade was firm, sheep making 22d. to 25d. and lambs 28d. to 30d. per lb. Numbers in the market—Cattle, 1,439; sheep and lambs, 8,460.

DERBY, Tuesday.—Good supply of fat cattle, but quality not up to the average. Trade ruled easier, prices ranging from 15½d. to 19d. per lb. Fair entry of sheep and lambs and trade dear, sheep making 25d. to 27d. and lambs 30d. per lb., while pelts realised 6/9 each. Calves again sold at 14d. to 18d. per lb. About 70 fat pigs on offer, of good quality, and trade very dear at 27/6 to 29/6 per 14lb. stone, dead weight.

NEWCASTLE, Tuesday.—Smaller supply of fat cattle and trade slower at less money, first grade beasts making 21/- to 22/6, while fat cows were in very slow demand at 16/- to 17/- per 14lb. stone. About 650 more sheep and lambs were penned, and trade was slower, young sheep realising 26d., ewes 21d., and lambs 28d. per lb. Fat pigs were in slow demand, porkers making 29/-, bacons 27/-, and sows 24/- per 14lb. stone. The few calves on offer sold at 18d. per lb. Numbers in the market—Cattle, 928; sheep and lambs, 4,789; pigs, 126; calves, 20.

LEEDS, Tuesday.—Cattle on offer, 453, slow trade, price 1/5 to 1/8 per lb.; sheep, 713; firm trade, no change in prices; five dairy cows fetched from £50 to £70 each.

PROVISIONS.—DUBLIN POTATO, Tuesday.—Supplies of potatoes on the small side. Trade quiet. Prices firm around 11/- to 12/- per cwt.

LIVERPOOL, Tuesday.—Moderate arrivals of Canadian BACON have been entered, but no further allotments have been made, and importers consequently have little to offer. There is a continued fair demand for fresh parcels of American Wiltshires, Cumberlands, and bellies, and poor grades of the two last named are also in request for Ireland. Canadian and Danish meets a good demand for the limited available supplies, though buyers still operate cautiously in Irish owing to the high prices wanted. HAMS in small compass, and move freely in conjunction with a proportion of bacon. Shoulders steady, and fresh parcels of squares are fairly inquired for. LARD on the spot meets a fair inquiry for both prime steam and American refined, with offerings about equal to demand. CHEESE in fair demand for controlled at Government rates, but Cheshire quiet at 1/7½ to 1/8½ lb. Free Canadian held at 158/- to 160/- white and 163/- to 165/- coloured, but attracts little attention. BUTTER scarce and firm for controlled at 336/- per cwt., while prices of Irish continue to advance owing to extreme scarcity. EGGS quiet, with Irish quoted 39/- to 41/-, Canadian 38/- to 38/6 per 120.

HALSTON STREET POULTRY AND GAME, Tuesday.—Market remains dominated by similar circumstances as at the close of last week, supplies of chickens and fowl being fairly good, but turkeys, geese, and ducks in narrow compass. In the quiet trend of trade values indicate little change generally, nor are there any signs of fresh developments. Some hares were to hand, and made 4/- each. Grouse, partridge, pheasants, and wild fowl still particularly scarce. Prices as last quoted. Fat geese around 1/5 per lb.; stores, 6/- to 8/- each; fat turkeys, 2/- per lb.

DUBLIN FRUIT AND VEGETABLE, Tuesday.—Apples plentiful; sales slow. Irish barrels, 34/- to 60/- and 66/-; kegs, 16/6 to 28/- and 31/6; boxes, 3/- to 11/-; floats, 3/6 to 4/-; trays, 4/- to 8/-; American apples, York Imperial, 100/- to 120/-. Italian apples costing £5 to £5 10/- per cask; Dutch apples, 42/- to 50/- per barrel, 30/- to 35/- per case; pears, 38/- to 40/- per keg; selected, 1/2 to 2/- each; Belgian pears, 15/- per box; best Irish grapes, 2/9 to 3/3 and 4/3 per lb.; poor and ordinary, 7½d. to 10d. and 1/6 per lb.; Irish tomatoes, 6d. to 10d. and 11d. per lb.; special, 1/- and 1/2 per lb.; marrows, 3/- to 5/6 and 12/6 per doz.; cucumbers, 3/- to 6/- per doz.; Spanish onions, 16/- to 20/- and 21/- per case; blackberries, 7d. per punnet; spinach, 1/- per box, etc.; sprouts, 2/- to 4/- per float, etc.; celery, 1/- to 2/6, 3/6, 4/-, and 5/- per bundle; kidney beans, 3/6 to 4/- per float; peas, 2/-; cauliflowers, 2/- to 2/6 and 4/- per doz.; salad, 4d. to 8d. per doz.; York cabbage, 10/- to 20/- and 40/- per load; swedes, 2/8 to 3/3 per cwt.; parsnips, 2/- to 2/6 per doz. bundles, and 6/6 to 8/6 per cwt.; carrots, 1/6 to 2/- per doz. bundles; thyme, 4d. to 8d. per bunch. There was a superabundance of vegetables on market, and many commodities proved difficult to sell up. Cabbage, for the first time for a long time past, went remarkably cheap, with a few loads to carry over from auction sales, but afterwards disposed of privately.

DUBLIN FISH, Tuesday.—Outside of a small country arrival of fish, about 300 boxes of stuff came in from two steamers, and 12 chests lobsters from usual source. Demand all round keen, and prices very dear. Leading sales averaged—First pick lobsters, 20/- to 30/- per 9 pairs; seconds, 12/- to 17/6; smalls, etc., 5/- to 7/6 per lot; turbot, small, 3/- to 15/-; brill, 2/- to 5/-; best soles, 50/- to 60/- per 9 pairs; mediums, 25/- to 40/-; slips, 10/- to 15/- per 9 pairs; large plaice, 8/- to 10/- per 4; others, 6/- to 10/- and 15/- per 8; half stones, 120/- to 180/-; hake, 80/- to 100/-; haddock, 40/- to 60/-; codfish, 80/- to 100/-; white soles, 60/- to 80/-; pollock, 25/- to 50/-; ling, 30/- to 40/-; conger eels, 30/- to 40/-; whiting, 30/- to 50/-; ray, 20/- to 30/-; gurnard, 5/- to 12/6; herrings around 25/- per box; mackerel, 32/6 ditto.

BILLINGSGATE FISH, Tuesday.—Supply liberal; moderate demand. Soles, 18d. to 24d.; slips, 12d. to 24d. per lb.; live eels, 30/- to 40/-; dead, 10/- to 30/- per draft; turbot and brill, 10/- to 12/-; plaice, 9/- to 12/-; halibut, 12/- to 13/-; lemon soles, 12/- to 13/-; whitches, 8/-; cod, 7/- to 9/-; hake, 11/- to 12/-; garnet, 3/- to 4/-; haddock, 3/6 to 5/6; bream, 2/- per stone.

GRIMSBY FISH, Tuesday.—Forty-nine North Sea, two Faroe trawlers, and two liners landed a poor supply; demand good. Prices:—Plaice, 13/- to 15/-; lemon soles, 17/-; cod, 7/- to 9/-; small haddocks, 3/-; kit, 5/-; gibbed, 6/6; dabs, 8/- to 10/6; hake and roker, 10/6, and whiting, 4/- per stone; soles, 2/4; turbot and brill, 1/- per lb.

LONDON BORO' AND SPITALFIELDS POTATO, Tuesday.—Trade generally quiet, but prices steady for best descriptions, supplies being larger. Light soil King Edwards quoted at 10/- to 11/-; British Queens, 10/- to 10/6, and Blacklands, 8/- to 9/- per cwt.

MANCHESTER, Tuesday.—BUTTER—There was a fair demand for Government descriptions, the quality of which gives general satisfaction. Irish creameries are now quoted from 470/- to 490/- on this market. BACON—High prices generally, especially for Irish, interfere with business. First-class quality inadequate to meet demand. HAMS unchanged. LARD—English and American refined firmer. CHEESE slow, with some buying of choicest for winter trade; prices irregular. EGGS steady; Irish 38/- to 42/-, Danish 40/- to 42/6, fresh American and Canadian 39/-.

BUTTER AND EGGS.—LITTLE GREEN, Tuesday.—Both creamery produce and farmers' butter continue in narrow compass. Apparently nothing further officially has been done with regard to creams, and wholesalers find themselves in a tight corner to get a sufficiency forward to cover their requirements. Prices, however, remain as before, viz., 3/7½ per lb. for fine standard quality, best farmers' butter, in firkins, still average 2/7 to 2/9½ per lb.; cools, 2/9½ to 2/10½, and separators, 2/10½ to 2/11 per lb.; coarse flavoured stuff remains within 2/4 to 2/6½ per lb. With regard to eggs, the market, too, shows little variation. Stuff is coming in in very unsatisfactory mixed condition, with a significant proportion of stale and unsaleable produce. For the best case eggs from known consignors in good districts prices are running from 37/6 to 40/- and 41/- per 120, and for selected and repacked eggs up to 43/6 is readily obtainable. The admixture of those seriously discounts the bulk of arrivals, perhaps to the extent of 3/6 to 4/- per 120; seconds and small eggs, consequently, may be quoted from 32/6 to 36/- per 120, according to character.

CORK BUTTER, Tuesday.—Firsts, 329/-; fresh butter, 334/- per cwt.

PRODUCE.—LONDON, Tuesday.—TEA—22,000 packages Ceylon offered at public sales met a steady demand for the better grades at late rates, but common descriptions easy. RUBBER market quiet and easier; plantation standard crepe spot sold 1/5⅛ to 1/5¼, October 1/6 to 1/5½, October-December 1/6⅛ to 1/5, January-March 1/7⅛ to 1/7, January-June 1/7⅛; smoked ribbed sheet spot sold 1/3⅛, October 1/4, October-December 1/4⅛, January-March 1/5⅛ to 1/5⅛; fine hard Para spot 1/7 per lb. HEMP—Manila quietly steady; New Zealand quiet and nominally unaltered. SUGAR—Only limited dealings were effected, chiefly in crystallised West India at late rates. American syrups slow. HONEY steady, quiet. COFFEE—Spot market quiet at late rates; future slow. RICE quiet, unaltered. Rangoon BRAN slow. SPICE—Pepper fully steady, especially for white sorts. JUTE—Market remained generally quiet, but late rates were fairly maintained. Native first marks new crop actuals September-October and October-November value £56, ditto substitutes £51, lightning assortment actuals new October-November £43, and substitutes £39 per ton. Calcutta Hessians and twills steady. SHELLAC firmer. COPRA quieter. PALM KERNELS quiet. OILS—Linseed easier; spot naked net 79/-, October-December 78/-. Rape—Crude spot naked 75/-, refined (barrels) 90/-. Cotton—Crude Egyptian naked spot 70/6, ditto Bombay 60/6. Soya—Naked spot 75/-. Palm Kernel—Spot crushed 88/-, extracted 87/-. Turpentine easier; American spot 139/-, October-December 140/9, January-April 144/6 cwt. Others unaltered. OILSEEDS—Linseed dull and lower; Calcutta September-October quoted £39, Bombay ditto £40, Plate September-October sold £35 5/-, new crop January-February at £34 to £33 10/-. Rapeseed dull; Toria Sept.-Oct. sellers £35 10/-, real bold Ferozepore £34 10/-. Cottonseed dull; Egyptian f.a.q. October-November sellers £19 10/-, Bombay ditto £14 15/- per ton.

LIVERPOOL AGRICULTURAL PRODUCE, Tuesday.—Owing to recent heavy rains, which interfered with marketing to some extent, supplies were somewhat restricted, though fairly good business was done at slightly lower prices. Potatoes—Allies, 10/- to 11/-, Great Scott 10/- to 10/6, Maincrops 14/-, King George 10/6; cucumbers 5/- to 7/-, cabbages 3/6 to 4/6, celery 4/- to 5/6, cauliflowers 4/- to 5/- per dozen; carrots 6/- to 7/-, Swede turnips 4/6 to 6/- per cwt.; kidney beans 2/6.

CLYDE CRUSHED SUGAR, Tuesday.—Market unaltered.

LIVERPOOL COTTON (Closing), Tuesday.—American quiet. Brazilian quotations raised 25 points. East Indian quiet. Egyptian neglected. October, 16.78d.; November, 16.60d.; December, 16.54d.; January, 16.40d.; February, 16.26d.; March, 16.15d. Sales 3,000, imports 187 bales. Market quiet, steady.

TRADE REPORT.—MANCHESTER, Tuesday.—Various causes, in which tightness of money is not the least important, operate in putting a check on cloth buying. Stocks abroad cannot be heavy, and interest in prices here is well maintained, but usually the matter ends there. Transactions for all outlets are neither numerous nor important. Yarns somewhat steadier, but no marked improvement in turnover.

HAY AND STRAW.—SMITHFIELD, Tuesday.—Supplies of fodder brought on our market to-day were unfortunately somewhat heavy, in face of most unpropitious weather following last night's and this morning's storm and continuous drenching downpour of rain. Few buyers put in an appearance, and the effect was generally disastrous on business and values. In the circumstances it would be futile to venture on quotations for either hay or straw. Factors found a difficulty in finding clients for bulk of stuff, accepting any reasonable price to clear.

LONDON, Tuesday.—Market quiet, and tendency of prices easy, with liberal supplies on offer. Best meadow hay, clover, and mixtures quoted at £13 10/- to £14, while straw ranges from 100/- to 120/- per ton, according to quality and description.

LONDON METALS MARKET.

TIN easier on realisations, which met with moderate response, cash being 30/- to 35/- and forward 40/- to 45/- lower since Monday's final rates. Cash quoted £270 to £270 10/-, three months £275 to £275 10/-, settlement price £270. Sales—355 tons, cash £271 to £270 10/-, early November £273 to £272 10/-, three months £276 10/- to £275 10/-. COPPER in steady demand and slightly dearer; standard cash £95 7/6 to £96 12/6, three months £95 7/6 to £96 12/6, being slightly easier; settlement price £96 10/-; 900 tons sold, cash £96 10/-, and December £96 5/- to £96 10/-, three months £96 10/-; electros £111 to £114, B.S. £105 to £106, E.S. £108. LEAD steady; 800 tons changed hands; October £34 15/-, November £34 10/- to £34 15/-, January £34 10/- to £34 12/6. SPELTER quiet; 300 tons sold; October £40 10/- to £40 13/-, November £41 5/- to £41. Wire bars £113 10/- to £114 per ton.

Lalley Light is electric light for every country home . . . .

If you want your country home to be a cleaner, brighter place, write at once for the Lalley Light booklet. It tells how you can have good, steady electric light wherever you want it at any time; how you can have a regular water supply; and how the house can be kept clean without toil.

A penny an hour is the running cost for ten bright electric lights—ten times ten for tenpence. The Lalley Light and Power Plant calls for no technical knowledge—a maid or boy can run it. It occupies only a corner in cellar or scullery and makes no smell or dirt.

SOUTH AMERICAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The annual sale of work in aid of the South American Missionary Society was opened in the Gregg Memorial Hall, Dublin, yesterday, and will be continued to-day from 1 until 6 p.m.

The Rev. J. C. Dunham, Secretary, mentioned that the mission had received two recruits from Ireland during the last year for the South American Mission, and one of them—the Rev. H. T. Hutchings—had gone away as a chaplain. The work of the Society was of a varied nature, being missionary, evangelistic, chaplainry, and educational.

The stalls were as follows:—

County Meath Stall (in support of Miss Wetherell, Chile)—Presided over by Mrs. Drought, assisted by Mrs. Waller, Mrs. Rothwell, Mrs. French, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. Humphreys, Mrs. Smythe, Miss Smythe, Miss E. Drought.

Country Produce (County Meath Stall)—Presided over by Mrs. Nicholson.

"Ladies' Auxiliary" Stall—Presided over by Mrs. Dunham, assisted by Mrs. Stuart, Mrs. J. E. Robinson, Mrs. Dixon, Miss Snow Craig.

Crusaders' Stall (in support of Miss Wetherell, Mrs. Saldana, Nurse Hegarty, Araucania; and Miss R. Maclean), No. 1—Presided over by Mrs. Mahony, assisted by Mrs. Barton, Mrs. R. Bewley, Mrs. Crofton, Miss Griffin, the Misses Powell, Miss Florence Wynne. No. 2—Presided over by Miss Chambré, assisted by the members of the Killiney Missionary Work Party. No. 3—Presided over by Miss Cooper, assisted by Mrs. Rodger, Mrs. Downey, Miss Oldfield. No. 4—Presided over by Mrs. Charles Lett, assisted by Miss Carr and Miss Hunter.

Home-made Cakes and Sweets—Presided over by Mrs. Couser, assisted by Mrs. Felton.

Refreshment Department—Presided over by Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Couser, assisted by Mrs. Parr, Mrs. Crofton, Mrs. Hosford, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Gordon, the Misses Airey, Miss Booth, the Misses Drake, the Misses Gordon, Miss Shinkwin, the Misses Shortt, Miss Thompson, the Misses Tisdall, Miss White, and Miss Talbot.

Literature Stall—Presided over by the Rev. R. S. Griffin, M.A.

Children's Stall—The Misses Lawrence, the Misses Calvert, the Misses Robinson, and Miss Bluebell Stuart.

In connection with the sale a concert was organised, and the programme contained the names of the following contributors:—The Rev. H. G. Forde, M.A.; Miss V. Wilkinson, Sch., R.I.A.M.; Miss E. Despard, Miss G. Huggard, and Mr. W. E. Jones. Miss A. Bell, Sch., R.I.A.M., was the accompanist.

WELL-KNOWN ADVERTISING AGENCY'S BROCHURE.

A copy of "World-Wide Publicity," published by the well-known firm of advertising agents, Messrs. Frederick E. Potter, Ltd., Imperial House, Kingsway, London, W.C., is now available. It is excellently produced, and gives convincing proofs of the service that a really up-to-date advertising agency can, and does, render to its clients. Reproduced in its pages are reduced specimens of many advertisements designed and written by Frederick E. Potter, Ltd., and also tributes from many of the advertisers, whose publicity is handled by this firm. A copy will be sent free on application to any responsible firm or person.

5,000 SHEEP.

Mr. Robert Craigie announces a special sale of sheep in the Cattle Market, Dublin, on Friday next, 8th October. The entries comprise a large and varied selection of the various breeds, including many excellent consignments of ewes, wethers, and lambs from well-known Western owners.

In a south-westerly gale yesterday morning a drifter, which conveys sailors to warships at Portland, was driven on the rocks.
